Two Promoted Six Retire In Education Dept.

Appointment of Harold L. Campbell, chief inspector of schools for the province and formerly municipal inspector of schools for Victoria, as assistant superintendent of education, was announced today by Education Minister G. M. Weir.

Dr. Weir also announced Capt. R. C. Grant, a teacher for several years in Oak Bay schools, has been appointed executive assistant to the deputy minister of education, Col. F. T. Fairley.

At the same time Dr. Weir announced the retirement of: Dr. D. L. MacLaurin, B.A., Ph.D., assistant superintendent of education.

H. H. MacKenzie, B.A., inspector of schools.

Maj. L. Bullock-Webster, A.R.C.M., director of School and Community Drama Branch.

Mrs. Muriel Cree, member of the Provincial Archives staff.

Mrs. Lillian J. C. Sweeney, Provincial Museum staff.

A. E. Pickford, member of the Provincial Museum staff.

H. L. CAMPBELL

Mr. Campbell is the elder son of a Victoria school principal. Mr. Campbell was educated in schools of the province, the University of British Columbia and the University of Washington. He has taught in schools in Vancouver, Esquimalt and Prince Rupert. For some years he was vice-principal of the Provincial Normal School here.

He now will have charge of instruction and the supervision of curriculum in the school system.

R. C. GRANT

A graduate of the University of B.C., Capt. Grant during the war had charge of one phase of vocational training in the army. In his new post he will take charge of head office administration.

Dr. MacLaurin, who retired on superannuation Monday, is a graduate of McMaster University, who subsequently took his Ph.D. degree from the University of Washington. He is one of the pioneer school inspectors of B.C. His territory at one time extended from the eastern boundary of the province to the crest of the Cascades.

He also served as inspector of high schools.

In 1915, when the provincial normal school was established in Victoria, Dr. MacLaurin was named its first principal.

In 1932 he was brought into the Department of Education head office as assistant superintendent of education.

"His retirement at this time is a distinct loss to the administrative staff of the department," said Dr. Weir. "His knowledge of the school system of this province made his presence in the head office particularly valuable. He carried with him in his retirement, the thanks of his colleagues and best wishes for happiness in his retirement."

Mr. MacKenzie is one of the senior inspectors of the province, having been appointed in 1912 after a career as a teacher and school administrator on the lower mainland.

"Mr. MacKenzie, for a number of years, has looked after the Fraser Valley district, and has recently done a splendid piece of work in assisting in the reorganization of this district," said Dr. Weir.

L. BULLOCK-WEBSTER

Maj. Bullock-Webster had spent some time in the department before his appointment to organize the school and community drama branch.

"He has for some years traveled throughout the province stimulating the young people in the schools and the communities served by these schools and awakening in them an interest in the fine arts," said Dr. Weir.

"The number of drama clubs throughout this province and the growing interest in this work is a tribute to the organizing ability and faithfulness of the work done by Maj. Bullock-Webster."

Mr. Pickford trained as a horticulturist in England and in Normandy under the world-famous Dr. Gabriel Portois and Dr. Jules E. Planchon and served in the Attorney General's department and B.C. Forest Service before joining the museum staff in 1944.

While with the forest branch in 1927 he established the forest experimental station at Lake Cowichan.

At the museum he has had charge of the Indian collection.

Only $200,000 Left On 1946 City Taxes

Only approximately $200,000 of the record 1946 tax levy in the city remains to be collected in the remaining three months of the year, it was reported today from the city assessor-collector's office.

Tax collections are already $67,785 ahead of the figure for the same time last year, with $1,331,438 having been collected up to the end of September. Last year $1,263,653 was in at the same time.

With the imposition of the 1 per cent penalty going on today there has been a big rush to get taxes in ahead of the penalty deadline, the assessor said, and it was estimated that more than $100,000 came in Tuesday, the figures not having been completely totaled yet. Monday $60,380 was received.

27 Hurt, 13 Jailed As Rioting Disturbs Hollywood Movie Folk

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Strife-torn studios tensely awaited threatened new outbreaks of "violence today in the wake of the most bitter skirmishing of the current jurisdictional dispute between two A.F.L. unions."

In a bloody battle between peace officers and 400 movie pickets at the gates of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Tuesday—with nightsticks, bottles, rocks and clubs as weapons and at least one gun in evidence—37 men were injured, 13 jailed.

Of the injured, 28 were pickets and nine were sheriff's

These Men Set Non-Stop Flight Record

Here is the crew of the "Truculent Turtle," U.S. Navy P2V Neptune which Tuesday completed a non-stop flight from Australia to Columbus, Ohio, a distance of 11,237 miles. The flight topped by 3,321 miles the existing record set last November by a U.S. Army B-29. Left to right the crewmen are Cmdr. Thomas D. Davies, Cleveland, Ohio, pilot and flight commander; Cmdr. E. P. Rankin, Sapulpa, Okla.; Cmdr. W. S. Reid, Washington, D.C.; and Lt. Cmdr. R. H. Tabelling, Jacksonville, Fla. After landing at Columbus Tuesday the four were flown to Washington, where they received decorations.

May Advance Date For Hanging Nazis

LONDON (Reuter) — The Nuernberg radio said tonight the Allied Control Council had decided today to carry out sentences on the 11 Nazi war criminals condemned to death Tuesday by the International War Crimes Tribunal before Oct. 16, the date originally reported as set for the execution.

Fire On Mauretania

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (Reuter) — Fire was extinguished within 20 minutes tonight in the Cunard White Star liner Mauretania at her dock here. The fire was in a storeroom and was confined to smoldering cork insulation. There is no suspicion of arson, but an inquiry will be held.

Protest Land Grant

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Legion today protested to Veterans' Minister Mackenzie that the government's action in limiting small holdings under the Veterans' Land Act to two acres except under exceptional circumstances had "the appearance of a breach of faith."

(New regulations, effective Sept. 12, raised the minimum holding under the act from one-half acre to two acres.)

City Land Sales Treble 1945 Figure

Sales of city-owned lands continue to soar above the 1945 level, being more than treble that figure at the end of September, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar chairman of the lands, zoning and housing committee announced today.

To date this year 648 parcels of land have been sold for $266,255, compared with 321 parcels of land sold in the nine-month period in 1945 for $86,115.

Total cash receipts in the land department for this year were $283,402, compared with $125,732, Ald. Dewar said.

For the month of September alone there were 30 parcels of land sold for $13,922, compared with 32 parcels sold last September for $6,887. Cash receipts for September were $14,179 this year and $9,099 last year.

Wisner, Kennedy Oppose Liquor Sales For Cafes

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wisner today said both he and W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the Liquor Control Council, were personally opposed to distribution of liquor in any form in restaurants.

The Attorney-General's statement was aimed at warning purchasers of restaurants in Vancouver and elsewhere, believing that cocktail lounges and other methods of distribution of liquor will be established in restaurants.

Mr. Wisner's statement follows:

"In keeping with my statement to the Legislature, Mr. Kennedy and I have been and still are discussing and considering suggested changes in liquor distribution but have not yet decided upon a policy for submission to the government and Legislature."

"Meantime, I am informed that sales of restaurants in Vancouver and elsewhere are being made upon representations that

Australian Minister Of Army Loses Seat

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — On the strength of belated returns from last Saturday's general election, Army Minister Francis Forde conceded today loss of the parliamentary seat which he had held for 20 years.

Mr. Forde is the only member of the Labor government thus far known to have suffered defeat, although Repatriation Minister C. W. Frost had been reported running behind in unofficial returns.

READS VERDICT OF WAR CRIMES TRIBUNAL—Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence (foreground) is shown reading the verdict of the four-power International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg, Germany, pronouncing Nazi Germany guilty of ruthless, aggressive war against 11 countries and stripping the 21 Nazi leaders of their last hopes for acquittal. Next day (Tuesday), 12 of the Nazis were sentenced to death.

U.S. Maritime Commission Acts To Stop Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Maritime Commission moved in on the United States shipping strike today and there was a sudden upturn of optimism for an early settlement.

The commission had not yet made a public announcement of its attitude, but A.F.L. and C.I.O. union leaders said a statement of the commission's policy had been circulated at a negotiating session late Tuesday night.

The union men told reporters the commission had given assurance it would enforce on all government-owned vessels any changes in working conditions agreed upon by east coast shipowners and the two unions which represent captains, mates and engine-room officers.

The main stumbling block in the dispute has been the refusal of Pacific Coast shipowners to go as far as the eastern companies in meeting demands for more "union security."

More negotiations were set for today at the Labor Department between the shipowners and the C.I.O. Marine Engineers and the A.F.L. Masters, Mates and Pilots—the two seafaring unions involved in the country-wide walk-out which began Tuesday.

Union leaders said that since the Maritime Commission owns a large segment of Pacific shipping, it has the power to set standards which would be followed by force of economic necessity—not only in government vessels but in private operations as well.

"Union security" has been the major issue in the dispute. Other issues, such as wages, were gradually being cleared away in the day-and-night talks.

"Union security" means such provisions as the closed shop, maintenance of membership, or other arrangements enabling a union to stay in a strong position.

'I Deserved It' Says Hans Frank, Of Death Sentence

NUERNBERG (AP) — The psychiatrist and the psychologist of Nuernberg prison, agreed today that while the doomed Hermann Goering likes to think of himself as a gallant, devil-may-care type of man, he actually is a "phony through and through."

Lt. Col. William Dunn of New York, the psychiatrist, said it was the thinning former Reichsmarshal's pleasure to regard himself as a gallant air force officer, romantic and a protector of women.

But Dr. Gustave Gilbert, the psychologist, said "Goering is a phony through and through and all the other defendants know it."

Dr. Gilbert said most of the condemned were overcome with depression as they began their fortnight's wait for the gallows.

Goering was shaking, he said, and Von Ribbentrop appeared dazed and frightened. Sauckel was frightened at the prospect of the hangman's rope, but Frank declared "I have been sentenced to death; I deserved it and expected it."

The war criminals sentenced to prison terms appeared almost as depressed as those who received the death sentence, Dr. Gilbert said.

Riots Continue

BOMBAY (CP) — One man was killed and another injured Tuesday night as communal disturbances continued to take their toll of casualties in Bombay.

NUERNBERG (AP) — Lawyers for the 11 condemned war criminals disclosed today they planned to appeal to the Allied Control Council to change the death sentences from hanging to shooting if all other pleas for clemency fail.

The last court of resort for Hermann Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop and the others from the ignominy of the hangman's rope Oct. 16 is composed of the four Allied generals sitting in Berlin as occupation authorities for the four zones of Germany. A 12th German, Martin Bormann, was sentenced in absentia to be hanged.

All three men acquitted remained in jail overnight. They had no other place to go immediately. Hjalmar Schacht, the truculent former finance minister, planned to remain in jail at least another night, saying he had no money, ration card or home.

Franz von Papen asked for a visa to the French zone, in which he has two castles near the Rhine. Hans Fritzsche may have to return to the Russian zone, whence he came for the trial as a prisoner of war.

Guards Doubled To Prevent Violence

Meanwhile, a redoubled force of guards surrounded the ancient courthouse and jail where the convicted men were held and they had orders to shoot to kill on provocation.

Four delegates—representing Britain, France, Russia and the United States, and appointed by the Allied Control Council in Berlin to work out details of the executions—met in secret today in the deserted courtroom where for 10 months Nazism's leading figures were tried on war crimes charges.

Increased security measures were ordered by the United States constabulary and special military police guards for the next two weeks, or until the death sentences imposed Tuesday by the International Military Tribunal are carried out on the gallows.

Here in the enclosure of the old courthouse of this city, which stood as a major symbol of Nazi power under Adolf Hitler, the Fuehrer's teammates of war-making days—Goering, Von Ribbentrop, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Hans Frank, Wilhelm Frick, Alfred Rosenberg, Julius Streicher, Fritz Sauckel, Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl and Arthur Seyss-Inquart—will be hanged on Oct. 16 unless the Allied Control Council overrules the tribunal. There appears to be little likelihood of such a reversal.

Appeal Deadline Saturday Night

A spokesman for the Council said in Berlin that the condemned men would have until midnight Saturday to file their appeals and that such appeals would be "acted upon speedily."

The other seven convicts, who drew prison terms ranging from 10 years to life, will serve their time in a four-power jail in Berlin, the name of which was not disclosed "for security reasons."

For the same reason, no announcement was made as to when those men—Rudolf Hess, Walther Funk, Erich Raeder (all life terms), Baldur von Schirach, Albert Speer (20 years each), Constantin von Neurath (15 years)

Inquest Set In Explosion Deaths

The death of three workmen in an explosion of three-quarters of a ton of gelatin at the Canadian Industries Ltd. powder plant on James Island last Thursday will be investigated at an inquest to be held at McCall Bros. Funeral Parlor on Monday afternoon at 2.

Corner E. C. Hart said today. The three victims were: John McDonald, 30 years, Keating; Edward Kennedy Cameron, 31, Bazan Bay, and Hollie Mundell, 25, Saanichton.

All were killed when the gelatin exploded in a small building in which they were working. Two workmen, Gordon Bowker and D. Wright, injured by flying glass and splinters of wood, even though they were several hundred feet away from the explosion, were released from Jubilee Hospital on Tuesday.

"The government is determined that the railway shall be extended into the Peace River district."

and Karl Doenitz (10 years) would be taken to Berlin.

Martin Bormann, the 22nd defendant, was sentenced to be hanged, but he was tried in absentia and is believed dead.

The prison gates swung open for Schacht, Von Papen and Fritzsche, who were acquitted Tuesday, amid a storm of controversy, including a pointed dissent by the Russians, a complaint by U.S. prosecutors that the first two should have been convicted, and a private expression by British representatives against the acquittals.

Though all three men spent Tuesday in the jail they were not in the tiny sequestered cells they had occupied during the long months of the trial. In more comfortable quarters they slept protected by guards but permitted to move about freely. Mrs. Schacht visited her husband, the former German economics minister and Reichsbank president, for a time Tuesday evening.

Rumors Increase As Blackout Holds

The United States army continued its news blackout around the Nuernberg courthouse and jail today. Col. B. C. Andrus, chief of the security detail, refused even to see reporters.

German lawyers floating in and out of the court building started a wealth of rumors, none of them which could be confirmed or denied by official source. One report was that Col. Andrus had ordered all condemned Nazis manacled each to a military policeman in his cell to safeguard any last-minute suicide attempt.

Another report was that German authorities had submitted to the military government formal petitions for custody of Hjalmar Schacht, Franz von Papen and Hans Fritzsche to face denazification boards and that German police had been dispatched to the prison to arrest them.

Alberta Livestock Rushed To Market

CALGARY (CP) — A rush to market livestock is under way despite the fact that the central strike committee of the Alberta Farmers' Union at Edmonton has not yet officially terminated the sit-down.

A total of 1,017 head of cattle, the largest single day delivery off-truck since Sept. 6, checked in at the Alberta stockyards in Calgary Monday and the rush continued Tuesday.

Three hundred and thirty-six head of cattle were checked into the yards overnight (Tuesday) and 331 hogs were received Monday.

Province Determined On P.G.E. Extension Says Premier Hart

Premier John Hart of British Columbia this afternoon told the Vancouver Board of Trade the government was determined that the provincially-owned P.G.E. Railway shall be extended into the Peace River district.

"We, as a government," said the Premier in a luncheon address, "are chiefly concerned in the development of our resources and the creation of opportunities for our people."

"I am fully convinced that should we extend the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the wealth of this province will be greatly enhanced by the development that such an extension will bring about."

"The government is determined that the railway shall be extended into the Peace River district."

Packinghouse
Strike Averted;
Wage Agreement

WINNIPEG (CP)—The threat of a strike by packinghouse workers across Canada was averted Tuesday night with the signing of a wage agreement between union employees and Canada Packers and Burns & Company.

The third large packing company involved in the wage differences—Swift Canadian Ltd.— is continuing negotiations with the union. It was reliably learned these discussions are proceeding "satisfactorily," and that an agreement may be reached shortly.

Announcement of the settlement with two of the companies was made by Mr. Justice S. E.
 Richards of Winnipeg, government-appointed conciliator in the dispute, which began a year ago.

EXPECTED TO ACCEPT

The agreement calls for a wage increase of 10 cents an hour for employees in the plants of the two companies. Union officials said they had no doubt this would be accepted by all the locals.

The differences between the company and the union began last fall when employees were granted an increase of 6.8 per cent in pay. One union official estimated the present 10-cent increase would bring the employees' total gain to about 18 cents an hour.

Negotiations began here Sept.
 16 following a temporary breakdown in discussions held at Hamilton, Ont., in August.

Mr. Justice Richards said joint applications would be made by representatives of the parties to the Regional War Labor Boards in the various provinces where plants are situated.

Fred Dowling, national director of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.), said: "Officers of the union have no doubt of acceptance by locals as the 10 cents increase, along with the increase received last fall, takes the U.P.W.A. gains above the objective set by the Canadian Congress of Labor."

Taking part in the negotiations were Canada Packers' president, J. S. McLean, W. R. Carroll, general superintendent of the company, both of Toronto, and J.
 Howard Kelly and B. Freeman, both of Burns & Company.

Union representatives included: Mr. Dowling; Sam Hughes, eastern assistant director; Adam Borsik, western assistant director; John Langlet, research director; Norman Riches, Saskatchewan representative, and three representatives of each local.

Laundry Difficulties
Reported in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver housewives, despite the soap shortage, will be able to have laundry service, but the clothes will not be so white.

Laundry operators report they will be out of soap by next week.
 "We will just have to use hot water, but it will take longer and the clothes will not be so white," one operator said.

NO RATIONING

TORONTO (CP)—Rationing would not end soap shortage worries, in the opinion of the Prices Board, Byrne Hope Sanders said here Tuesday. For effective rationing, the pattern of consumption must be much the same in all areas, the Prices Board's consumer branch director told a meeting of Ontario consumer branch representatives.

"The current acute shortage of laundry soap and soap flakes is the direct result of industrial disputes which have cut off the supply of soda chemicals," said Miss Sanders. That meant, she added, that a complicated ration plan might become unnecessary before the ink dried on its announcement.

The present plan is distribution of soap supplies on a quota basis to merchants, who in turn divide the bars and soap flakes as fairly as they can among their customers.

Couple Return From
Two-Month Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Kingsley have returned from a two-month honeymoon trip which took them to California, Mexico and the interior of British Columbia and are residing at the Windsor Motor Court.

The former Vera M. Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K.
 Henry, 539 Dunedin Street, exchanged nuptial vows with Arthur K. Kingsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cappadonia, London, Ont., Aug. 7, at a quiet ceremony performed by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse at Metropolitan United Church.

For her wedding costume, the bride chose a smoke grey suit of gabardine, fuchsia blouse and matching gloves, black plastic purse and shoes. A corsage bou-quet of gardenia and swansonia completed her ensemble.

6-Year Old Fifth Traffic Victim;
Thousands Gather At Death Scene

Wrecking crew works feverishly to extricate six-year-old Johnny Whitehouse from under a streetcar at Fort and Douglas Streets late Tuesday afternoon. The boy died six hours later.

In one of the most tragic accidents seen here, Johnny Whitehouse, six-year-old son of Mr.
 and Mrs. Ernest Whitehouse, 1600 Burton Avenue, was pinned beneath a streetcar at Fort and Douglas Streets at 4:20 Tuesday afternoon, and died six hours later in St. Joseph's Hospital.

The boy was under the tram for nearly half an hour before
 B.C. Electric Railway Company workmen could jack the heavy car up to release him.

He never lost consciousness during the time despite terrible injuries which included the sever-

SPOKE TO POLICE

As thousands of people stood and watched, the little boy spoke to policemen who waited to rush him to hospital.

Dr. E. L. McNeven and Dr. T.
 W. A. Gray were at the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred and went with the boy to hospital in the police ambulance. They reported he died at 10:20.

Police reported operator of the streetcar was Edward J. McLeod, 1038 Wollaston Street.

It was understood the streetcar on the No. 9 Uplands route, stopped on Fort Street at Douglas to take on three or four passengers. It started with the green traffic light to turn north on Douglas. When the front of the tram was 10 to 15 feet north of the northerly pedestrian lane crossing Douglas Street, the conductor heard a shout and screams. He threw on the emergency brake and stopped within six feet.

The boy was found between the two front wheels of the front trucks of the streetcar, across the tracks racing in an easterly direction. The catcher on the front of the streetcar still was in position.

SEEK WITNESSES

It had not been ascertained by police if the boy went under the side or the front of the streetcar. Witnesses still were being interviewed at a late hour this morning by traffic inspector John Blackstock, who is seeking any others who saw the accident.
 They are asked to contact police immediately.

It was believed the boy had been crossing Douglas Street in the northerly pedestrian lane from east to west.

Johnny was with his brother, Paul (Paddy), 11 years, and his sister Wendy, nine, when the accident occurred. They had got off a No. 1 streetcar a short time before, on their way from school to visit their grandfather, William Gray, at Cadboro Bay.

Johnny attended Malvern House School with his brother. Wendy is a student of Norfolk House.
 Johnny had started school last month.

TOLD TO WATCH CARS

On the streetcar which had brought them to town, Johnny had been sitting with Malvern House School principal, Capt. D.
 J. Proudfoot, who had been chatting with him and on saying goodbye had told him: "Look out for cars when you are crossing the road."

Immediately after the little boy had been taken to hospital, police picked up his father from Victoria College where he is studying for a pre-medical course, and his mother, the former Carrie Gray, who is employed at the Crystal Garden, and took them to him.

The father, a former sergeant radar mechanic in the R.C.A.F., who received his discharge last October after seeing several years' service overseas, commenced studies at Victoria College last month. He had taken pre-matriculation schooling at the Tye Road school for veterans.

The mother and the streetcar conductor were well-known swimmers here. Before her marriage, Mrs. Whitehouse took part in several Times long-distance swims.
 Both she and McLeod are former members of the Y.M.C.A. swimming club.

McLeod, who has a child of his own, is a former navy man who served in the war.

Johnny, who was born in Victoria, wanted to follow in his mother's footsteps as a swimmer and was going to enroll in the "Y" swimming club in the near future.

SIMILAR ACCIDENT

A similar accident occurred at the same intersection on July 26 of last year when Mrs. Jennie Bell, 73 years, who resided at the Aged Women's Home, stumbled and fell underneath a No. 6 streetcar when she was crossing Fort Street against a red traffic light.
 She suffered severe internal injuries and could not be removed to hospital until the streetcar was jacked up.

13 Japs Convicted
Of Cannibalism

GUAM (AP)—A U.S. military commission, trying the first case of wartime cannibalism in history, convicted 13 of 14 Japanese today. Seven of them were found guilty of eating the flesh of U.S. airmen.

Three of the four top defendants were convicted of violating the laws and customs of war, the only charge to fit cannibalism, since the offense is so heinous it is in no rule-book of war.

They were Lt. Gen. Yoshio
 Tachibana, navy Capt. Shizuo Yoshii, and Maj. Sueo Matoba.
 The fourth top defendant, Vice-Admiral Munzori Mori, was acquitted of this charge, but convicted of neglect of duty.

The cannibalism allegedly was committed late in the war when four U.S. airmen were shot down over Chid Jima and were confronted by a half-starved garrison.

Jap Prison Guard Jailed; Ill-Treated Hongkong Survivors

HONGKONG (Reuter) — Ni-imori Genichiro, Japanese prison camp interpreter, was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years' imprisonment following his conviction on eight charges of committing atrocities against Canadian and British prisoners of war.
Nimori was charged with being partially responsible for the drowning of more than 800 British prisoners aboard the transport Lisbon Maru, torpedoed off the China Coast Oct. 1, 1942. It was alleged the accused ordered the prisoners to be battered down in the holds while the vessel was sinking and that when the prisoners burst through hatch covers Nimori ordered Japanese soldiers to fire on them.

WORKED IN RAIN

Nimori also was charged with forcing prisoners to work in pouring rain until they dropped from exhaustion, with helping himself to prisoners' parcels from Canada and with opening a store to sell the parcels' contents. It was charged he destroyed batches of mail which he said he was too busy to censor.

It was charged that Nimori mistreated a number of Canadians during the voyage of 500 men from the Dominion from Hongkong prison camps to camps in Japan aboard the "hell ship" Toyama Maru in December, 1943, two years after the fall of Hongkong.

Campbell River Powerhouse Foundation Laid

On this scene of wood forms, steel reinforcing and concrete will rise a modern powerhouse which will be the nerve centre of the 150,000-horsepower Campbell River development of the B.C. Power Commission. Workmen are shown pouring the first concrete into the foundation of the building, which will ultimately house six 25,000-horsepower turbines and generators, along with control equipment for the huge development, the largest hydro-electric project attempted on Vancouver Island.

Milk Subsidy Demand Rejected By B.C. Cabinet

The B.C. government Tuesday formally rejected demand of the B.C. Federation of Labor (C.C.L.) claiming 60,000 members in the province, for the provincial government to continue the Dominion government's subsidy to milk producers.

The announcement of the government's policy was made by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, chairman of the executive council during the absence of Mr. Hart, which heard representations made by a four-man labor delegation.

Mr. Anscomb announced "the government had given consideration to the question of subsidies and had decided that it was purely a Dominion matter and responsibility and that in any event the province had no financial resources in which to undertake a program."

Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam added that milk was the cheapest food in the diet requirements of the people.

Protesting the end of the producers' subsidy, which resulted in the price of milk today jumping 2 cents a quart, was a delegation composed of John Turner, secretary of the Vancouver Labor Council; Jack Greenall, executive director of the labor federation; Bert Marcuse, director of the Trade Union Research Bureau, and B. J. Melness, secretary, District 1, International Woodworkers of America.

CRUEL BLOW

The delegations brief described the raising of milk prices as "a cruel blow" struck at the living standards of the working people of British Columbia and Canada.

The delegation argued:
1. The subsidy must be maintained because like all taxes it was, at least to some extent, paid for by those best able to pay.
2. The government must take additional steps to aid both the producer and consumer, investigating distributors' profits and curbing wasteful delivery techniques.
3. Health of the public must be given first consideration before any steps were taken to remove subsidies.

Indian Boy Killed

AGASSIZ, B.C. (CP)—Provincial Police reported a 15-month-old Indian boy was killed at the Chehalis Indian Reserve near Harrison Mills, B.C., when a shotgun was discharged accidentally by his eight-year-old uncle.
The victim was David Rodney Leon. He died instantly when struck by the charge as the gun went off when eight-year-old Rudolph Leon picked it up while the two youngsters were playing on the back porch of their home.

News Of The Island Campbell River Construction Workers Now Total 335 Men

Despite the labor shortage at the Campbell River power project, progress is "quite satisfactory," Premier John Hart said Tuesday. The Premier said that the General Construction Co. Ltd., contending with a labor shortage which looked at one time as if it might put the work behind schedule, had now succeeded in increasing its gang of workmen from 250 to 335.

Premier Hart said steel-fabricating contractors had stated that although they have 2,000 tons of steel on hand, it will not be possible to build complete structures until a month or six weeks after the steel strike ends, as certain sizes of steel necessary in all structures are yet to be rolled.
The contractor for 18 Diesel units for various power districts, Vivian Engine Works Ltd., Vancouver, has completed 75 per cent of the work to be done in its own shops. Generators for this equipment, however, are to be supplied by Canadian Westinghouse Co. and strikes which have brought production of this company to a standstill may cause a delay in installation of the units.

At Campbell River, footings for five of the towers on the transmission lines to Nanaimo and Alberni have been completed. Thirteen others are still under construction.

A crane for hoisting massive equipment for installation in the powerhouse below Elk Falls has been delivered to the Power Commission.

Nanaimo Ship Base Offered For Sale

NANAIMO—War Assets Corporation officials have announced they are offering for sale the buildings and equipment at the former naval repair base on Newcastle Island, near Nanaimo.

The naval establishment consists of two docks, 14 wooden buildings and a marine railway located on four acres of land leased from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The naval repair base was established in 1943 in buildings purchased from the Nanaimo Shipyard Ltd.

Youth Centre Opens At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI — More than 300 members of the Teen Town and 20-30 Club took part in the full program of entertainment which marked the opening of their new Alberni District Youth Centre, a converted army hut.
Mayors V. C. Hamilton and C. C. Cocks of Port Alberni and Alberni were present at the opening ceremonies and spoke briefly. Other speakers were Bert Bayley, chairman of the memorial centre committee; Clifford Leslie, district supervisor of recreation; Jack Phico, president of Teen Town, and Alex Robertson.

Nanaimo Resident Dies

NANAIMO—Mrs. Bertha Bertram, 61, a resident of Nanaimo for 60 years, died Tuesday at Nanaimo Hospital. Mrs. Bertram was prominent in church and lodge circles. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 3 from the Westwood Hirst Funeral Home.

Brides Entertained

CAMPBELL RIVER — The women's auxiliary of the Canadian Legion at Campbell River entertained brides of returned servicemen at a party here. Mrs. A. Ross, president of the auxiliary, welcomed the wives, who had come to live in the community. Mrs. N. Smith and A. Clinton won prizes.

Australian Girl Flies To Island

CAMPBELL RIVER—The first flight of the newly inaugurated air service between Australia and Canada brought together again a Campbell River veteran and his Australian bride-to-be.

The Australian girl, Miss Patricia Rayon, joined Edward Granholm in Campbell River after a 36-hour flight across the Pacific. Mr. Granholm, now an employee of the Elk River Timber Co., served in Australia during the war with the Special Signals Corps of Canada.

The couple will be married around Christmas and will reside at Campbell River.

More Than $20,000 Received In Drive

DUNCAN — Subscriptions in the drive for $30,000 for the King's Daughters' Hospital here are now past the $20,000 mark, headquarters of the drive has announced.

Campaigners are confident that the objective will be reached before the close of the drive next week-end. Receipts have not yet been sent in from lumber and logging camps, and it is expected they will swell the total considerably.

For each dollar raised by Duncan, the provincial government has indicated it will subscribe another dollar.

Old '374' Goes To Kitsilano Park

VANCOUVER (CP)—Old 374, the original "Iron Horse" which snorted and puffed its way across Canada in May, 1887, at the head of the first transcontinental passenger train, has made its last trip.

The once-proud engine which steamed majestically into a gaudy, mushrooming boomtown nearly 60 years ago, made its last journey through a blaze, unheeding metropolis in ignominious fashion—mounted on the back of a heavy truck.

Old 374 will stand as a curiosity of the past in Kitsilano Park here.

CRUSADER FOR PEACE AT 75

MILLIONS OF AMERICANS AND MEN

of good will throughout the world will anxiously await news from the bedside in Washington of Mr. Cordell Hull, former Secretary of State in successive Roosevelt cabinets, who suffered a slight stroke yesterday and whose condition this morning was not encouraging. Nothing daunted, however, the veteran statesman who was born 75 years ago today has issued a birthday message in which he solemnly charges the "Big Five" powers with a "special responsibility to co-operate for world peace," and warns all the peoples of this planet that failure to produce unity will lead to "incalculable disaster." But the gentleman from Tennessee is not pessimistic; he is convinced that the statesmen upon whom the major responsibilities of the hour rest will not fail in the critical test which faces them in "one of the most perilous junctures in history," for he adds:

"It is perfectly clear to me that all nations must, with whole-hearted devotion, continue to base their relations upon the paramount fact that the primary interests of each of them alike lie in the securing of its security in a world at peace, and the fostering, in such a world, of the economic and social well-being of its people."

Few men in the English-speaking world have done more for the cause of international accord than this able and far-seeing American statesman. Almost on the morrow of his appointment as Secretary of State in the first Roosevelt cabinet in 1933—a position he held until ill-health caused his retirement two years ago—Mr. Hull began his practical assault on the policy of economic isolationism to which his country had become wedded since the advent of the Harding administration in 1920. He put his heart and soul into this crusade because he realized that so long as the philosophy of self-sufficiency remained the guiding principle of one of the richest nations of the world fiscal wars would eventually produce armed conflict on a large scale.

Mr. Hull's reciprocal trade agreement program—which won almost universal response—did not prevent the Second World War because the widespread tariff spree of the 1920's already had created some of its causes. But it promoted a new realization of the dangers of ignoring the economic interdependence of nations. It strengthened his belief, moreover, in the efficacy of a new league for peace as part and parcel of the battle against fiscal exclusionism. And his was the spade-work which dug the foundations for the United Nations—the agency for whose success he appeals from his sick bed on his 75th birthday.

TO SAVE TIME

IS IT POSSIBLE FOR THE GENERAL Assembly of the United Nations to streamline its proceedings and save precious time at its forthcoming meetings in New York? Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Canada's new Minister of External Affairs, answers the question with a suggestion. He has written to Secretary-General Trygve Lie to propose that a committee of "about 15" states be appointed by the Assembly to consider and make recommendations on measures calculated to prevent those protracted conferences which fray tempers and achieve little of practical value.

Mr. St. Laurent crystallizes his point when he says that the General Assembly can be successful in carrying out its task "only if delegations include ministers responsible for the formulating and carrying out of policy." And it stands to reason that the chances of these ministers being able to be present during the whole period of the session will be considerably greater under his plan than if discussions are permitted to drift along without some kind of restraining influence. Surely the delegates of all the nations will agree that if there is a will to get things done, the adoption of the Canadian minister's proposal points a way to discourage "fishing expeditions" of a political or sectional nature.

A TASK OUTSTANDING

AS THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL of the United Nations lays plans to wind up its current session at Lake Success tomorrow night, it is small wonder that approval has yet to be found for the establishment of the International Refugee Organization on which hopes will rest for the maintenance of hundreds of thousands of homeless people in Europe. The physical obstacles alone to repatriation and resettlement challenge the courage and ingenuity of the staunchest and most astute who can be assembled to work on the problem. For many of the wanderers no home exists to which they may return. War's devastation has wiped out communities from which they came, and barren fields, torn by battle, offer little hope of sustenance to those who would go back to native lands to try to rebuild their lives.

In addition to this material consideration, moreover, there are new ideological differences which make it next to impossible for many to seek shelter and rehabilitation in their places of origin. Recognizing this fact, the United Nations have laid down the rule that "no refugee or displaced person who... after receiving full knowledge of the facts... express valid objections to returning to their countries of origin, shall be compelled to do so."

To this, many governments now in power in the former homelands of the displaced reply that they desire the return of their nationals to help overcome labor shortages and to reconstruct ravaged areas. They are, obviously, anxious to avoid being called upon to subsidize indirectly the opponents of the present regimes. Yet to deny asylum to those who, having fought courageously against the common enemy, cannot accept the situations in their countries of origin would be to violate an obvious moral principle.

It is to the plight of such as these that the newer countries, Canada among them, must give special consideration. In the western world are the freedom and space they require to re-establish themselves. Yet the call of humanity must be balanced against the problem of assimilability. And that is a question for which there is no speedy solution.

In May of last year, authorities estimate there were approximately 20,000,000 displaced persons in Europe. Since then nearly 90 per cent have been repatriated by the western military authorities. But at the end of this year, when UNRRA ceases to exist, about 800,000 homeless persons will be left in parts of Germany, Austria and Italy for which the French, American and British peoples will be responsible. And these will be the problem cases. In the face of that condition, the establishment of the refugee organization becomes all the more complex.

PROBLEM OF SUPPLY

CANADIAN TRADE COMMISSIONER Maurice Belanger is back in this country on a flying trip from his post in Rio de Janeiro and has told exporters in this province that Brazil, through the war years, has accumulated some $600,000,000 in sterling and dollars—which she desires to spend on urgently-needed imports. The implication in this important statement of fact is that British Columbia business should be able to cut itself a substantial slice of this export trade. Although "our public relations" with the great Latin-American Republic are "excellent," the visiting commissioner points out that the main problem is one of supply—a condition which obviously calls for imagination and initiative. He tells us, for example, that Brazil needs food commodities which Canada should be able to furnish, while capital goods of all kinds—including transportation equipment, rolling stock, rails, road-making machinery and tools—are in top demand.

What Mr. Belanger says about Brazil, presumably, is true of several of the South American nations. But when he mentions the problem of supply as the chief stumbling block to the expansion of Canadian export trade south of the Rio Grande, he inferentially reminds us in this country that business which might be Canada's will go elsewhere unless we put an end to industrial dislocation. In other words, we must go to work on the all-important production lines which, when running to full capacity, will also increase the demand for labor from the Pacific to the Atlantic. And it is not likely that countries with money to spend on imports will waste time considering how to place orders where there is no guarantee they will be filled. Thus every strike in this country, regardless of its merits or otherwise, is an intimation that goods which come within the exportable category are and will probably remain in short supply for some time to come. This is a poor advertisement for any Canadian Trade Commissioner to live down.

THE GREEKS HAD A WORD!

IF INTELLIGENT READERS OF CURRENT literature in the United States have laughed at some of the contents of Elliott Roosevelt's book, "As He Saw It" which already has appeared in serial form, they will let themselves go over the last of the series. This says that the author's illustrious father was angered by the British intervention in Greece in 1944 and planned a trip to Britain a little later for a direct appeal to the British people to put their faith in the United Nations rather than just in the Empire and the anti-Russian bloc.

What the late President of the United States had in his mind about British policy in Greece we do not know. Nor do we know how author Elliott reconciled the time element—"a little later"—with the epochal events which began in western Europe on June 6, 1944, for his father's trip to Britain. However, apart from the fact that nobody in his or her right mind, on this or the other side of the Atlantic, could envisage an American President taking the stump in Great Britain to urge the British people to recognize the errors of their ways, no incumbent of the White House would commit political suicide by even so much as whispering such intentions.

If author Roosevelt has felt the urge to impart more sensationalism to his "As He Saw It" than to recount facts he was permitted to learn about the intimate conversations between his famous father and Prime Minister Churchill, well and good. But that is no reason why he should, wittingly or unwittingly, discount the intelligence of the average American reader with such stuff and nonsense about his father's contemplated "direct appeal" to the British people.

All wartime graft will be exposed, if people haven't lost interest, if records haven't been destroyed, if witnesses haven't died of old age.

MEASURING A POLICY

IF THE ISSUE before the United States were whether to oppose Soviet expansion or to appease it and retreat and surrender, the problem of foreign policy would at least be easy to understand and simple to decide. In so far as the Wallace-Truman-Byrnes affair has made it seem as if this were the issue, it has been a red herring across the track. For the grave and difficult question is not whether to oppose the Soviet expansion in Europe and Asia but how the United States can best do this effectively.

AMERICAN POLICY is necessarily as yet unsettled because the situation to which it has to be addressed is so unstable and so changing that no government, the American, the British, the Russian, is able to judge it finally. The proof that American foreign policy is not settled but is still in the making lies in the fact that the U.S. Chiefs of Staff, the War, Navy and State Departments, have been as yet unable to agree on the character and composition of her military establishments.

Yet if Mr. Byrnes knew clearly how, when, where, and with what measures, he was going to implement the decision to oppose Soviet expansion, military policy would not be unsettled. Therefore, I contend that those who profess to be interpreting Mr. Byrnes, and are saying that he has decided and shaped a fixed and general policy, are obscuring the problem and are interfering with the search for the solution.

THIS POLICY, as interpreted by Mr. Alsop from Paris and as advocated by Mr. Bullitt in his book, is that the United States should unite the non-Soviet world as a great coalition, and should support and strengthen it. If this is the policy, and it is by no means settled that it is going to be or that it can be, it is a bad policy. I do not say this because it worries me that Moscow will denounce it as a policy of capitalist encirclement.

The policy is a bad one for quite different reasons. It is bad because it cannot unite, will in fact disunite, is in fact disuniting, the non-Soviet world. For the non-Soviet world is not all of it free, nor all of it democratic, nor all of it capitalist, and even in that part of the non-Soviet world which is ideologically nearest to her, United States' conceptions of freedom, democracy, and capitalism, are sharply challenged. If the United States attempts to lead an ideological crusade for her way of life, it will foment internal divisions in western Europe, civil war in eastern Europe, and increasingly it will find western Europe including Britain drawing away from her. This is already happening.

BUT THE WORST aspect of this policy is that it is, as its sponsors admit, good only for a few years. Both Mr. Bullitt and Mr. Alsop tell us that the policy they advocate will work only as long as the Russians do not have atomic weapons. But a stop-gap is not enough. Is it not the essence of the United States' task to reach a settlement with the Soviets before the dreaded day arrives when they have, in addition to their tremendous army, atomic weapons as well? How can any one be satisfied with a policy which is to wait, grimly and angrily, until the Russians have caught up in the race of atomic armaments?

Stalin's statement the other day shows that he is quite well informed about this so-called policy, and that he has taken its measure. Speaking of the atomic bombs, he remarked that "they cannot decide the outcome of war." He meant, of course, war against the Soviet Union, first, because space is a considerable defence against bombs, so that in a big country it would be necessary to invade it in order to conquer it; second, that the Red Army moving into Europe could not be dealt with by annihilating the cities of Europe. For if American policy is to unite Europe against Russia, she cannot annihilate Europe in order to defeat Russia.

STALIN SAID ALSO that there were two "remedies," of course from the Soviet point of view. The first is to end the U.S. monopoly by getting the bomb, and the second is to forbid the use of the bomb when both sides have the bomb. Stalin's confidence that Russia will have time to get the bomb does not rest, of course, on the solemn assurance that no one is thinking of a "preventive war." He knows that lots of people have thought of it. But the more they thought of it, the less they thought of it. Stalin knows that too. His confidence rests on the military fact outlined above—that, with the Red Army deep into the continent, Europe is a hostage in Russian hands which excludes consideration of a preventive war. Therefore, he will probably seek, and will be able to obtain the breathing spell which his statement foreshadows.

THE COALITION POLICY, as portrayed to the world in the writings of Mr. Bullitt and Mr. Alsop, has no means of dealing with this situation. It is a simple thing to frustrate it by Russia's doing what Stalin's statement indicates she will probably do—that is, by taking a breathing spell. The policy calls for a defensive coalition which is to wait defensively until Russia has the atomic bomb. Stalin's policy is to wait, too, until Russia has the atomic bomb. When she has it, the defensive coalition, if it could be formed, would fall apart because Britain, France, and western Europe cannot let themselves be made the battlefields of an atomic war.

The alternative policy is not to organize a coalition and ideological crusade, and not to get entangled and dispersed all over the globe, but to force the Russians to negotiate a settlement by concentrating U.S. military effort in the eastern Mediterranean and U.S. political effort upon the consolidation of western Europe.

'Hope Of The World'

From Public Opinion, London

AT BRUSSELS, records the Liberal Magazine, delegates from the Liberal Party of Belgium, the Liberal Party of Great Britain, the Radical and Radical Socialist Party of France, the Radical Party of Denmark, the Party of Freedom of Holland, the Radical Democratic Party of Switzerland, the Popular Party of Sweden, the Liberal Party of Italy, the Spanish Liberals in Exile, adopted the following declaration.

WE ASSERT our faith in the spiritual liberty of man. We oppose every form of government which fails to guarantee to all its people liberty of conscience, liberty of the press, liberty of association and of the free expression and publication of their beliefs and opinions.

We oppose every reactionary or totalitarian form of government. We assert our faith in political liberty and democracy. No country is democratic if it fails to safeguard the fundamental rights of the human personality, personal freedom, the right of free criticism, the recognition by the government of its responsibility towards its people, the independence of the administration of law and justice, and unless its political form is based on consent which must be conscious, free and enlightened.

Convinced as we are that the suppression of economic freedom leads inevitably to the disappearance of political freedom, we affirm our confidence in an economic system which respects private initiative, the spirit of enterprise and responsibility. We oppose those solutions which place all the national economy in the hands of the state and we assert that it is possible to avoid economic anarchy and at the same time maintain the essential forms and habits of freedom.

CONSCIOUS as we are that political liberty cannot be separated from the well-being and progress of society, we desire to see established everywhere a system of government which shall be democratic in its economy and in its form and which, on the one hand, progressively and in conformity with the special conditions in each country associate the workers with the benefits and the administration of all enterprises, and which, on the other hand, safeguards everyone against want, disease and unemployment.

We believe that war can only be abolished by a world organization, including all nations, great and small, under the same law and equity. World peace and universal economic prosperity demand the free exchange of goods and services, the free circulation of men and of capital, the abolition of all barriers to the complete economic relations between states, and, in the interests of consumers, the creation of a form of control over cartels and monopolies, whether national or international.

FINALLY, we assert that our aim is to develop among men a faith in education and in the value of character, to give them a sense of liberty and responsibility and to fit them for service to their country and to mankind; and we assert that, in view of the growing danger of political and economic tyranny, the free man, endowed with a social and international conscience, is the hope of the world.

BUREAUCRATS

There are always those who speak slightly of politicians, and such men as Mr. King, Mr. Howe and Isley do not escape their unkindly comments. Mr. Gordon, no doubt, is one of those whom they denounce as "bureaucrats"—a fashionably favorite word among denouncers at present. But history will record with appreciation the service done by these and other men who have been at the helm during the troubled war and post-war period; men who have had to make a myriad of decisions of the utmost importance to the nation and indeed to the world. Let no one suppose that their labors have been anything but arduous, or that the strain upon them—a strain of responsibility as well as of actual performance—has been anything but great.—Toronto Star.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B, C, D, Riboflavin (B2), and Nicotin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underperforms, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

TORONTO JUDGE'S VIEW

Your editorial on corporal punishment is an excellent summary of the case for enlarged power for the judges and magistrates who sit in our juvenile courts. One of the many anomalies which exist under our present law is that it permits corporal punishment of a trade apprentice by his master but prohibits experienced juvenile court judges from ordering even a spanking for a juvenile; no matter how serious his offence or how often repeated.

I wrote recently to Ontario's leading jurist, Hon. R. S. Robertson of Toronto, Chief Justice of Ontario, asking him his view on this question. In his reply he made the following statement and authorized its publication:

"I have been much concerned since my appointment to the bench at the constantly increasing volume of crime in the country, especially among the youth, and at the very inadequate means taken to deal with it. In the Court of Appeal we have many cases of boys under 20 and the number has increased rapidly in my time as it has done before. Boys are sent to the reformatory and soon they come back again unreformed, and in for another term. This is the true source of our criminal class. If we could control the development of crime among the young, it would soon fall off. There are many cases of growing boys where a good spanking with a paddle would be more efficacious than a prison term.

"There is no matter that more deserves the earnest concern of our legislators than this."

Nuptial Rites For Sheila Paxton

Wearing heavy white satin fashioned with square neckline, fitted waist featuring bands of lace inset and lily point sleeves, Miss Sheila Eleanor, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paxton, 1160 Pandora Avenue, was escorted into Christ Church Cathedral by her father Tuesday at 8 where she became the bride of John Henry Bolland, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bolland, Regina, Sask.

Completing her costume, the bride wore an embroidered veil, floor-length, which misted over the graceful skirt of her gown. She carried a shower bouquet of deep red roses and a three-strand pearl necklace, the groom's gift, was her only jewelry.

Baskets of colorful autumn flowers decorated the church for the ceremony performed by Rev. T. L. Leadbeater. Thomas Jenkins provided wedding music.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Dorothy Paxton, in shell pink taffeta, and Miss Doris Mann wearing blue sheer. Juliette caps with chapel veils formed their headresses and they carried arm bouquets of pink carnations.

Four-year-old Trina Rutherford was the petite flower girl, her short white frock tied with pink sash. She wore a bandeau of pink roses in her hair and repeated the pink theme in her dainty Colonial bouquet of carnations.

Jimmy Gallant was groomsmen and ushers were Bill Fisher and Gordon McKinnon.

Britannia Hall was the scene of the reception following the service where guests were welcomed by Mrs. Paxton, assisting the bride party. Rev. Leadbeater proposed the toast.

The young couple left on the mas caros, under the direction of Mrs. D. A. McRae.

England Not Home, Owen Family Return Here

The fulfillment of a dream might be the heading for the story of a group of people who have thought and planned since long before the last world war, to come to Vancouver Island from England to make their home here.

Strangely enough, the story starts right here in Victoria, too, almost 20 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Owen with their family of three small girls and one boy lived here then. One day they decided to go home to England on a visit and when they got there Mr. Owen became interested in several business projects and they stayed. Another son was born. The children started going to school. They acquired soft English accents and made a host of English friends.

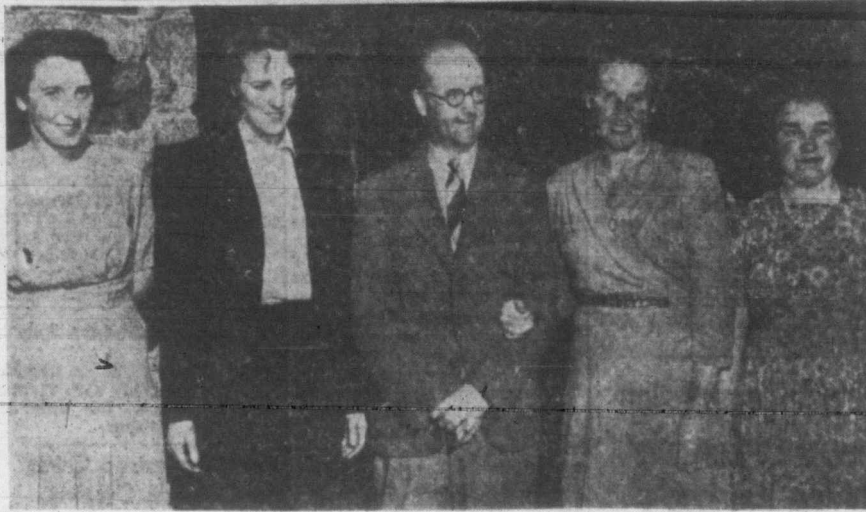

But always when they were all together around the fireplace of an evening they talked of coming "home to Canada." As the girls grew up and started to "go steady" with one particular boy, they kept this thought in the back of their minds and when the boy finally said "Will you marry me?" the Owen girls came back with "Will you go to Canada with me some day?"

The boys were willing so plans went on. Just before the last world war, everything was ready but fate stepped in and their plans had to be shelved for a few years.

Husbands and brothers were called into service, the girls went into war work, mother and dad did their bit.

Just as soon as the war was over they started making plans again and by freighter, passenger ship, air carrier and plane, they are gradually gathering in Victoria.

Sqdn. Ldr. Lane and his wife, the former Rosina Owen, with their tiny daughter, were the first to arrive. They came to America on the freighter American Farmer.

The three Owen girls, Bunty, Mary and Rosina (Mrs. G. B. Holt, Mrs. A. Richardson and Mrs. S. Lane), are pictured above from the left, with Sqdn. Ldr. S. Lane and Miss Anne Bell, right. "We always wanted to come back to Canada," the Owens say, "because Canada is our home."

"We certainly had to work hard to make it, at just 48 hours' notice, too," Mrs. Lane laughingly says, and Mr. Lane adds, "we had to get permits even to move our furniture, and then we had to make the wooden cases to pack it."

FLY HOME

A friend, Miss Anne Bell, came with the Lanes. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Holt, Bunty Owen, with their two little girls, flew to America. Mr. John Owen, the older brother, who served in the navy during war, was married in London, just two days before he started for Canada, with his brother-in-law,

Mr. A. Richardson, a chartered accountant, on an aircraft carrier. The young bride and Mrs. Richardson, Mary Owen, followed by the passenger ship, Argentine to New York.

The Lanes, who reached Victoria first, bought the old Rickard residence on Lampson Street and when packing cases arrived, they furnished it with authentic antique furniture, some dating back to the 16th century, suits of armor from baronial halls, old pewter and china, all from their old home in England.

LIVE TOGETHER

It is here that the Owen clan will gather and live until they have found homes of their own. The Lanes call their new home the Old English Guest House and they plan to run it as just that. A place where visitors to Victoria can find the real atmosphere of an English countryside home.

The mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sr., will not arrive for another two months but plans are already afoot for a family celebration when they do get here.

"We would like to have the Parliament Buildings lighted for them," Mrs. Richardson says, with a smile, "they have looked forward for such a long time to returning to Victoria."

The younger brother also plans to come to Victoria to make his home at a later date as well as a group of friends who have been sold on the idea by the Owen family.

Personals

At a social gathering Monday at the home of Mrs. J. Tait, 1228 Montrose Avenue, Mrs. A. G. Brown, nee Frances Clarke, was presented with a walnut Duncan Fyfe table, on behalf of the ladies of Oaklands hall, on the occasion of her recent marriage. The honor guest and her mother, Mrs. H. Clarke, were presented with corsage bouquets on their arrival.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Whitmore, 920 Transit Road, entertained with an afternoon party in honor of their son Barry's fourth birthday. The table was decorated and centered with a birthday cake. Mrs. Fred Watkin assisted the hostess in serving. Guests were Mrs. Lloyd Bassett with Diane and Michael; Mrs. Jim Fulton with Monica and Montgomery; Mrs. J. H. Hamlet with Diane and Derrick; Mrs. Reg Bowering with Clifford, Evelyn and Richard; Mrs. R. Robinson with Bobbie; Mrs. K. Ulrick, Mrs. S. Evans, Mrs. H. Kayll, Miss Susan Taylor, Masters John and Alan Foster, David Sutton, Diane and Valeria Watkin, and Joan and Brian Whitmore.

Honoring Mrs. Lillian C. Sweeney, who is retiring from the staff of the Provincial Museum, a no-hostess dinner was held at the Nutshell, Tuesday. Present were Mesdames G. C. Carl, Margaret Stewart, Mary George and Misses Gladys C. Cruickshank, Mona Rickoy, Bessie Thomas, Amy Wells, Agnes and Marjorie Brown, May Lewis, Betty Prangnell, Gladys Perry, Lydia Clarke, Ann Miller, Muriel Pottinger, Roberta Balm, Jean Henry, Alice Dougan and Margaret Crummy. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet and a sterling silver hand-hammered dogwood brooch.

Margaret Jenkins — Mrs. A. Unwin, president of Margaret Jenkins P.T.A. received guests at a get-acquainted tea held in the school auditorium recently. During the afternoon a Canadian

Women's Institute Meet

Mrs. S. E. Gummow, superintendent of Women's Institutes, left, with Mrs. A. S. Dennis, president, Provincial Board of Women's Institutes.

Mrs. E. Glover, Victoria, vice-president, District Board, left, with Mrs. G. Orr, Shawnigan Lake, president, District Board, and Mrs. C. Johns, Victoria.

Salt Spring Island Women's Institute presented a resolution at the Tuesday afternoon session of the South Vancouver Island District Women's Institute Conference at the Y.W.C.A., urging that the government take immediate steps to preserve beaches of the province for public use.

The resolution stated that due to the purchase of waterfront property by private interests, the public was rapidly being excluded from most of the beaches. Mrs. A. Davis, president of South Salt Spring Institute, said that in several instances recently shore rights had been leased to private interests, and that the institute felt strongly that action should be taken to prevent beaches being denied to the public.

Speaking in favor of the resolution, Mrs. Nancy Hodges,

M.L.A., said that she felt a strong concerted action on the part of the Provincial Women's Institute should be taken to safeguard the public.

The resolution was passed and Mrs. Davis and Mrs. E. Glover of Victoria were appointed as a committee to obtain full information on the matter.

Miss Echoe Lidster, supervisor of boys' and girls' clubs, spoke at the afternoon session. Miss Lidster has visited many fall fairs in rural districts in the past month and participated in field days and junior judging team contests. She stressed the need for contacts with youth in isolated communities through the social and educational clubs.

Institute reports were heard at this morning's session and an address by H. Anderson on "Recreation Set-Up."

Justice Macdonald, Frontier Lawyer, Dies In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. W. A. Macdonald, 86, retired justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, died at his home here Tuesday night following a heart attack.

Born at St. Catharines, Ont., he came west in 1883, and before moving to the coast became one of western Canada's best-known frontier barristers and political warriors.

He was a former member of the Manitoba Legislature, heading the Conservative opposition in 1893 in the days of Sir Clifford Sifton. For some years he lived at Brandon, Man.

Later, Mr. Justice Macdonald moved to Nelson, where he became a leading figure in the Kootenays, coming to Vancouver in 1909.

He was appointed to the bench in 1913, serving in the Supreme Court until his retirement 13 years ago.

The affable, white-bearded jurist was a keen sportsman, and a star in the hurly-burly days of lacrosse at St. Catharines. He was first president of the Vancouver Curling Club, honorary president of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association, and had held office in the British Columbia Canadian Rugby Football Union.

Three daughters survive him, including Mrs. W. H. Swan of Toronto.

Funeral service will be held here Saturday.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By GLENN BABB Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet Union keeps the pressure on Turkey over the Dardanelles, and if the purpose is to find out whether American interest in the issue is genuine and lasting Moscow must have had its answer in the last two days. Statements by two of the highest ranking spokesmen in Washington should convince anyone that American diplomacy is following every turn with the liveliest interest and that the armed forces of the United States are co-operating closely in support of foreign policy. The lessons of the Wallace incident are evident in the close co-ordination of pronouncements of Navy Secretary Forrestal and Dean Acheson, Acting Secretary of State, on U.S. policies and disposition of U.S. forces in the Mediterranean and the Middle East.

They also made plain the policy of the United States, in keeping with its support of the United Nations, to take an active interest in any situation which might be a threat to peace anywhere in the world. Mr. Acheson emphasized this in his press conference yesterday. Like Mr. Forrestal on Monday he pointed out that American naval forces have been operating in the Mediterranean since the beginning of the republic. He saw no reason why that should be changed now.

Mr. Forrestal in the State Department concerning Moscow's latest demands on Turkey. While he did not indicate what action might be taken, other authorities said there was little doubt that if circumstances required, the United States would repeat as strongly as necessary the stand taken in its note of Aug. 19 to Moscow. That note emphatically opposed the Soviet proposals for joint Russo-Turkish defence of the straits and elimination of non-Black Sea powers from the agreements governing control of the straits. Indications from London are that Britain takes the same stand.

Gardiner Tells Of Farm Income Boost

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP)—Farm income rose from $664,000,000 in 1938 to $1,826,000,000 in 1944 under the policies of the Liberal government, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Tuesday night in an address on behalf of J. S. Wood, Liberal candidate in the by-election to be held in this constituency Oct. 21.

(The by-election was made necessary by the death of Harry Leader, Liberal member, Liberal, Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. candidates are contesting the seat.)

From 1935—when the Liberals took office—on, the government grappled "so successfully" with the problem of markets that "even before the war began they increased exports by 50 per cent."

By 1940 the problem became one of increasing dairy and meat products to feed Britain and of storing wheat or improving farm operations to provide more wheat at the end of the war.

Atomic Commission Meets To Consider Control Proposals

By LARRY HAUCK LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations' Atomic Energy Commission today plunged back into the task of setting up world control of the atom bomb.

The commission's No. 2 (political) committee was called into session to receive the report of a group of international scientists who found that technically atomic energy can be controlled for peaceful purposes and put the issue of constructive use up to the world's politicians.

Delegates generally looked to the United States or Russia, which still stand far apart on the question of control methods and inspections, to make the opening move after the reading of the report.

The scientific committee, composed of representatives of the 11 countries on the Security Council plus Canada, made plain in its 6,800-word report that there must be safeguards at every stage—from mine to factory. Generally the United States holds there must be strict inspections internationally, while the Russians maintain that countries should be responsible for activities within their own borders.

Elsewhere on the United Nations front:

The Economic and Social Council hopes to end its current meeting by tomorrow night, when approval of the proposed international refugee organization and setting up of machinery to aid in the reconstruction of war-devastated areas of Europe still the major hurdles.

Hull, Sick, Warns Peace Needs Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Critically ill on the eve of his 75th birthday, Cordell Hull Tuesday night solemnly charged the Big Five powers with a "special responsibility to co-operate for world peace" and warned failure to produce unity would lead to "incalculable disaster."

Less than 24 hours after he had suffered a stroke, the wartime U.S. Secretary of State put forth his birthday message at—in his words—"one of the most perilous junctures in history."

It was a message of confidence that the world's statesmen "will not fail in this critical test"—the task of forging world peace. But it was tempered by grim reminders of the difficulties in the way of that goal; and it noted plainly the international differences which already have developed—difficulties which he termed "dangerous."

"It is perfectly clear to me," he said, "that all nations must, with a whole-hearted devotion, continue to base their relations upon the paramount fact that the primary interests of each of them alike lie in the assuring of its security in a world at peace, and

Von Ribbentrop was once quite a figure in Ottawa social circles. He came to the capital in 1913 and was well established when he left hurriedly a few days before war was declared in 1914. Just before he departed he hustled into Mr. Skinner's store, made a few small purchases, explained he was short of cash and said he would drop in and pay the next morning.

CAMPBELL BUILDING FORT AND DOUGLAS

It happened on the morning of August 6th, 1945

Miss Toshiko Sasaki, a young clerk in the East Asia Tin Works, had just sat down at her desk and was turning her head to speak to the girl at the next desk. Mrs. Hatsuyo Nakamura, a tailor's widow, stood by her kitchen window. Suddenly, there was a tremendous roar and a blinding flash that lit up the heavens above Hiroshima as the first atomic bomb in history fell from the bomb pits of an American bomber! A hundred thousand people were killed... and these two were among the few survivors! John Hersey, war correspondent, author of the best-seller "A Bell for Adano," has written the simple, terrifying story of what actually happened. He has written the story in the words of six survivors—giving you the picture of events as it appeared to the average man and woman. The story tells what you might experience if an atomic bomb landed in your city.

Because of the importance and terrific impact of this story, The Standard is publishing it complete in one issue, devoting thirteen pages of the Magazine Section to it this week. Read it complete and unabridged this week in The Standard—published by special arrangement with The New Yorker. Already this story has created world-wide comment and publications throughout the world have requested permission to print it.

ONCE IN EVERY LIFETIME

Every man, sometime or other when he is young, goes on fire for some particular woman; every woman goes on fire for some particular man! This week, The Standard's book-of-the-week is a beautiful, poignant love story of a boy and a girl who desired each other more than anything else in life... but failed to get their wish! If you enjoy reading a truly grand love story, then be sure to read "Once in Every Lifetime"—complete in "The Standard" this week!

MEET PETER DAMAN—Market Gardener

In Manitoba, there's a suburb of Winnipeg called St. Vital! That's where we found Peter Damant—the man who grows fruits and vegetables for a living! How does his family live? Are they prosperous or not? This week, The Standard gives you some of the answers in an exclusive photo-story! It's another one of Kate Aitken's picture articles in the series—"Meet Mr. and Mrs. Canada"—that make mighty interesting reading. It's in The Standard's Rotogravure section!

Traveling with children?

Next time, try the train

The train offers a great many advantages to parents traveling with children:

1 Safety. Statistics prove that you and your children are safer on the train than in your own home. That's pretty hard to beat.

2 Low cost. Children under 5 ride FREE when accompanied by an adult, children from 5 to and including 11, half fare.

3 Pullman berths cost the same whether used by one or two people. Thus a mother with a child can "double up" with the child in a berth for no additional Pullman fare.

4 Children get seats in chair cars and coaches just like adults, even though they ride free or for half fare.

5 Southern Pacific dining cars offer a wide variety of food for children as well as adults. A special children's menu offers meals at less than adult cost. Ingredients and facilities are provided for the preparation of formulas and special diets.

6 On the train, children have plenty of room to move around. They aren't "cooped up" as in so many other forms of transportation. And they will get a friendly reception from our trainmen, most of whom have children of their own.

7 Traveling on the train is highly educational for children. They see their country intimately, at ground level.

8 Children love to ride on a train. Remember when you were a child—what fun it was to take a train trip?

Next time, try the train

Dividing Line For Saanich Fails To Get Endorsation

A proposed line for the division of Saanich into two municipalities, drawn by a commission appointed by the provincial government at Saanich's request, failed to receive endorsement of the municipal council Tuesday night.

An amendment to a motion by Councillor John Oliver that the line be endorsed received support only from Councillors Oliver, George Austin and J. Len Hobbs. A full council of eight was on hand.

The action came after 20 minutes of discussion which involved secession of Ward Six from the municipality, amalgamation with the city, and formation of two municipalities. Most of the councillors took part.

Councillor W. C. Kersey, Ward Six representative, started the discussion after the conclusion of the regular business portion of the meeting.

Councillor Kersey asked Reeve Lambrock to report on a meeting he and the reeve had had with the Minister of Municipalities on the question of a secession petition from Ward Six which was before the provincial government.

Reeve Lambrock replied that no action resulted from the meeting with the minister. "There's little headway being made," he said.

CONTRADICTS REEVE

Councillor Kersey contradicted the reeve, stating that the minister had requested the municipal council to advise him as to its feeling regarding Ward Six seceding from the municipality.

"But we cannot get on the Saanich Relief Act under which the people of Ward Six have asked for secession," the reeve replied.

Councillor Kersey shot back: "We are not being asked to act. The minister merely wishes us to guide him in the matter. We should not let this drift on. It has been left up to us to take the next step."

Councillor J. W. Casey interrupted with the suggestion that a night be set aside for discussion of the matter.

Councillor Kersey told him the question had been under discussion for three years, and it was time something was done.

"To bring the matter to a head I move that we recommend to the Minister of Municipalities that Ward Six be granted its request to secede from Saanich," Councillor Kersey said.

STANDS ALONE

There was no seconder as Councillor Thomas Alexander condemned what he termed "splitting the municipality," and said the Saanich Relief Act under which a section was allowed to ask to secede "should be thrown to the fore winds."

Councillor Kersey asked the reeve: "Are you going to allow discussion on the question before my motion is seconded? The only reason the Elk Lake water board has been set up in rural Saanich is because we can't get any action at the council meetings."

There still was no seconder as Councillor Casey said he did not believe in the majority forcing the minority into anything, and felt that the opposition being shown against the secession request from Ward Six was merely in the interest of the ward.

"I feel they (Ward Six) are taking the wrong step. They'll not gain anything by seceding," Councillor Casey said.

He repeated his request that a meeting be set for discussion of the matter, stating that the Ward Six ratepayers could be given reasons why it should not secede and if it still wanted to secede, then its request could be granted.

A motion calling for a meeting on the question failed to receive a seconder, and Councillor John Oliver started to talk about amalgamation when Councillor Kersey told him: "That's something entirely different to what we are talking about."

Councillor George Austin then spoke for the first time, stating that some action should be taken on the line drawn by the government's representatives for division of the municipality.

Councillor Casey moved that the line not be endorsed. Councillor Oliver moved an amendment to the motion that the line be endorsed. The amendment was defeated.

Said Councillor Kersey, shaking his head: "Why can't we deal with my motion on secession?" It still had no seconder.

Saanich Not Talking On Public Ownership

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council got little satisfaction from Saanich Council on Tuesday night when it requested information on the council's feeling towards public ownership of a unified transportation system.

"I think most of us favor the idea of public ownership," said Councillor George Austin, "but it is the right time now for that."

The council decided to inform the labor group the only information available was embodied in a brief prepared by the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee.

The council realized this brief already was in the hands of the labor men.

Represent Saanich At Housing Parley

Councillor Robert Noble and Thomas Alexander were named by Saanich Council on Tuesday night to represent the municipality at a conference of the Victoria Veteran-Labor Joint Committee on emergency housing to be held in the auditorium of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, on October 20.

The council also endorsed a motion from the joint committee calling for the federal government to suspend non-essential building permits for a year.

Saanich Butchers Get Okay To Close

Saanich Council on Tuesday night gave final reading to a by-law calling for all-day closing on Wednesdays of the municipality's butcher shops.

Before the reading, Reeve A. G. Lambrock reported that no objections had been raised to the by-law as had been the case in the city.

"Ours is in order," remarked Councillor J. W. Casey, referring to reports that because too much time had been spent on passing the city's by-law it had little power.

Final reading also was given a streets, sidewalks and traffic regulation by-law amendment which will give the municipality the power to take action against persons using grossly insulting and obscene language in public.

First reading was given a barber shops closing by-law which will allow the municipality's four barbers to remain open from 9 in the morning until 7 in the evening on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, with all-day closing on Wednesdays.

'Save The Bees' Plea To Saanich

Vancouver Island Beekeepers' Association received support from Saanich Council on Tuesday night in its request that spraying of trees be completed before the blossoming season in order to eliminate damage to bees.

The council informed the association every effort would be made by the municipality to carry out what little spraying it did, before the trees came into bloom.

Film 'Red Wagon,' Life Of Swift, To Be Shown Thursday

The Victoria premiere of a motion picture based on the life of Gustavus Franklin Swift, meat-packing industry pioneer, will be presented in the Empress Hotel ballroom Thursday evening for employees of Swift Canadian Company, their families and friends.

The film, "Red Wagon," a feature-length full color, historical picture, telling of the life of Swift from the time he bought his first heifer for $18 at Barnstable, Mass., when only 16 years old, to his death in Chicago in 1903, will be shown to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the incorporation of the company.

A. C. Lindsay, Swift manager in Victoria, said most of "Red Wagon" was filmed in Hollywood with a cast including 23 principal characters and a number of other "bit" parts together with hundreds of Swift employees. It was produced for Swift by top-ranking Hollywood motion picture technicians.

The picture stars John Whitney in the role of Gustavus Franklin Swift and Barbara Woodell, who has the part of Ann Higgins Swift, his wife.

Early scenes show Swift as a youth in his Cape Cod home in the middle of the 19th century. It relates some of his experiences during the period when he was getting his start in the meat business in New England. The story follows his progress, which brought him eventually to Chicago. It describes development of the refrigerator car which made possible the year-round long-distance transportation of dressed meat.

Mr. Lindsay will preside at the gathering which will be attended by O. W. Pearson, a director of the company.

Saanich Inspection Fee To Be Increased

Soon it will cost as much in Saanich as it does in the city, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, for inspection of household oil burners and service station fuel tanks. On recommendation of Fire

Chief Joseph Law, the Saanich

Council on Tuesday night instructed the municipal clerk to investigate the amounts of inspection fees in the other municipalities, and to prepare a by-law bringing Saanich's rates up to the others. It was reported by the fire chief that Saanich's rates were 50 cents lower than those in other parts of Greater Victoria.

Paints Bear Black For Atlas Picture

Washing an elephant isn't in the same class with painting a 500-pound bear.
 Take property man Lionel Fenton's word for it. He's the chap at Paramount who had to turn Rosie, the Russian bear that worked with Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour in "Road to Utopia," now at the Atlas Theatre from a rusty brown to a glossy black.
 The painting was necessary so that the bear's fur would match the fur coat Dorothy wears.

Victoria High School Notes

With a month of the term gone, students of Victoria High School are getting acquainted with the various extra-curricular activities offered this year.

Don Elliot, Peter Salmon, Mark Zabel, Fay Chestney and Don Smyth have been elected as the Grade 12 Students' Council Representatives.

House captains for the year are as follows: House 1, May Aikens and Ron Castner; House 2, Marilyn Grant and Don Henderson; House 3, Lorraine Miles and John MacMillan; House 4, Shirley Ross and Don Smyth.

Rod Nixon will preside at the first Students' Council meeting this week. Joan Veitch is secretary with Tommy Joyce as vice-president.

Vic High's publication, "The Camosunet," has three editors-in-chief this year, Barbara Bell, Viola Berrow and Joyce Cannon. First copies will be issued shortly as last Wednesday was the deadline for all copy. Staff of the "Camosunet" has been enlarged this year and the editors are expecting a first-class paper.

Music classes are being held throughout the day under the direction of Miss Norma Douglas. Three groups have been organized so far, the Girls Choir of nearly 100 voices, Boys' Glee Club of 50 voices, and the Mixed Choir of 40 voices. Students who take vocal and instrumental lessons outside of the school will be presented in concerts during the Assembly period on Wednesday.

Of interest to all typing students was the visit of Miss Irma Wright to the school. Miss Wright demonstrated "how to type" and "how not to type" before an enthusiastic class.

On the sports front, rugby and girls' grass hockey teams have started their practices in preparation for the coming season. Inter-school rugby will get away Oct. 7, according to Joe soccer is entering its final week with Houses 2 and 3 tied at the top of the standings. Those two teams will meet tonight to decide the league winner.

Late in starting this year, the Red Cross cent-a-week will be taken up this week with a tag day to be held in order to bring up the amount for the first four weeks of school.

No Nation Wants War, Says Gen. Eisenhower

PRESTWICK, Scotland (CP)—Gen. Eisenhower said, Tuesday: "There is not a major nation in the world that wants war—of that I am certain." He added that he could see no signs of deliberate provocation that might bring on a war.
 The former Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in western Europe landed here after a tour of U.S. installations in Germany. From Prestwick he motored to Culzean Castle, his Scottish headquarters. He will go to Balmoral Castle Saturday, where he and Mrs. Eisenhower will be guests of the King and Queen.

B.C. Should Build Up Brazil Trade

Maurice Belanger, commercial secretary to the Canadian embassy in Rio de Janeiro, who believes British Columbia should get a large share of the $600,000,000 in dollar and sterling credits Brazil has built up during the war, will arrive in Victoria Friday to discuss trade with the South American republic.

Vancouver Island manufacturers and exporters may make appointments to see Mr. Belanger through the office of the trade commissioner in the Department of Trade and Industry of the B.C. government.

Prior to appointment to the commercial intelligence service, Mr. Belanger served five years as technical translator in the Privy Council Office, Ottawa. He was posted to Paris in November, 1929, as assistant trade commissioner and succeeding posts included Brussels and Havana. He was appointed Canadian government trade commissioner to Rio de Janeiro in 1942, and in May, 1945, was promoted to commercial secretary.

"We have an excellent opportunity of replacing the German and Japanese trade with Brazil and should take advantage of it," said Mr. Belanger in Vancouver. He said Brazil during the war underwent a tremendous industrial expansion particularly increasing her manufacture of cotton textiles and machine tools. The country now needs food, particularly wheat, flour and other non-tropical products, and capital goods of all kinds, including transportation equipment, rolling stock, road-making machinery and tools of all kinds.

British Columbia is already supplying cement-mixing machinery, Diesel engines and engineering products, he said.

College Activities Into Full Swing

Extra-curricular activities are getting into full swing at Victoria College, and the first meeting of the Alma Mater Society was held this week in the largest room in the college.

Nominations were opened for the five remaining positions on the Students' Representative Council and will close Friday. Balloting will take place Tuesday with Monday given over to the election campaigns.

There are nine clubs which students may join, all of which will hold noon-hour meetings during the next week.
 The clubs which are getting under way are: Forum, International Relations Club, Literary Arts Society, Music Appreciation Club, Hot Records Society, Camera Club, Players Club, Varsity Christian Fellowship and the Student Christian Movement.

In the sports field rugby practices have started for the men and a basketball team is being formed. Soccer teams will be set up soon. Women's sports will be organized as soon as a representative is elected to the Students' Council.

Next social function scheduled for the college is the "Hard Times" dance, to be held after the mid-term examinations.

Kiwanis To Observe Newspaper Week

As long as we have a free press and an enlightened public the democratic system will prevail for all time," said President Denis Hagar in announcing Tuesday that the Victoria Kiwanis Club would participate with Kiwanis International in the annual observance of National Newspaper Week this year.

He explained that the club would observe the period Oct. 1 to 8 as National Newspaper Week.

Mr. Hagar said that in this day and age of unsettled political and economic difficulties throughout the world, it is highly imperative that the weekly and daily newspapers remain strong.

Pointing out that weekly and daily newspapers are championing projects and activities, campaigns and causes which directly raised the living standards of

Eugene O'Neill Returns With 'Iceman Cometh'

By JAMES THRASHER

NEW YORK.—The first really postwar theatrical season doesn't promise any revolutionary changes in the drama that revolves around Broadway. There will be many old familiar names and faces around and a number of old familiar plays that have been revived.

For something else that isn't new it will still be hard to get two for tonight for a hit show. The thousands of soldiers and sailors who roamed Times Square at this time last year may be gone. The market may have slumped. Transportation difficulties, lack of hotel rooms, a series of strikes and other factors may have scared a lot of visitors away from New York. But still—

"Business couldn't be better," says C. P. Greeneker. And Greeneker should know, for he has been press agenting for the Messrs. Shubert these many years. Joe Heidt, the Theatre Guild press man, concurs. He cites the several shows which opened late last spring and got the kiss of death from the critics, but which managed to survive the summer—which used to make even good shows wilt and expire.

The new season, by tradition, got under way on Labor Day, but the first big excitement is still to come. That will be on Oct. 9, when Eugene O'Neill returns to Broadway (where he was born) with his first new play in 13 years, called "The Iceman Cometh." This, like some of O'Neill's earlier works, is a long one. It will start at 5.30 and end at 11, with an hour and a quarter out for dinner.

NEW TALENT SCARCE

The years of waiting for a new O'Neill play naturally heighten the anticipation of its opening night. But O'Neill is not the only distinguished playwright who will contribute to the season's entertainment. In fact, the roster of famous names bulks large on the title pages of plays cast and forecast for 1946-47. And it serves to underline the scarcity of talented young playwrights that Elmer Rice complains of.

Rice, with O'Neill, is the dean of active American dramatists. Each had his first play produced in 1914. Rice currently has a hit, "Dream Girl," on Broadway, and has finished work on the libretto of an operatic version of his Pulitzer Prize-winning "Street Scene" of 1929. The opera, with music by Kurt Weill, is scheduled for a Christmas week opening.

The list of up-coming plays seems notable for a dearth of dramas dealing with the grim realities of the present. But Rice rules out today's unsettled times as causing the lack of young talent. That lack, he points out, has persisted for a long time, back beyond the war to the days of peace.

Nothing seems to inhibit the veteran theatrical craftsmen, in any event. Rice's colleague in the Playwrights Company, Maxwell Anderson, has a new play called "Joan of Lorraine," which is awaited almost as eagerly as the O'Neill work. Not only is Anderson a playwright who commands attention, but the star of his new work is Ingrid Bergman, who will be making her first Broadway appearance.

Noel Coward's new comedy, "Present Laughter," is due in October, with Clifton Webb as the star. "Happy Birthday," by Anita Loos, will serve for the welcome return of Helen Hayes, and Ina Claire will reappear after several seasons' absence in a play called "Fatal Weakness," by George Kelly. These are also October attractions.

November is scheduled to bring more new plays by noted craftsmen. Besides the Anderson play there is Moss Hart's latest, tentatively titled, "The World of Christopher Blake," and a play by Lillian Hellman, as yet untitled, which is to reintroduce the unpleasant family which Miss Hellman unveiled in "The Little Foxes."

A bumper crop of musicals is in the offing. Definitely set beyond 11th hour changes, are "Park Avenue" in October, and "Sweet Bye and Bye," "Finian's Rainbow" and "Toplitzky of Notre Dame" the following month.

"Park Avenue" has a book by George S. Kaufman and Nunnally Johnson, lyrics by Ira Gershwin, and a score by Arthur Schwartz.

There are almost enough scheduled revivals to turn Shubert Alley into the sawdust trail. Heading for an Oct. 14 opening is "Lady Windermere's Fan," the Oscar Wilde museum piece which was brought out and dusted off in London last year. Cornelia Otis Skinner and Henry Daniell are the stars, but reviews from the tryout tour indicate that they are sharing attention with Cecil Beaumont's settings and costumes. In addition, the noted British photographer makes his acting debut in this production.

Other forthcoming revivals include Sygne's "Playboy of the Ingrid Bergman: Anderson's new play brings her to Broadway.

Western World," starring Burgess Meredith; "Cyrano de Bergerac," with Jose Ferrer as producer and star; Elisabeth Bergner in "The Dukes of Malfi"; "Lysistrata," with an all-negro cast; Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts," with Bobby Clark; Gay's "The Beggar's Opera," with a new score by Duke Ellington, and a season by the American Repertory Theatre in which Eva Le Gallienne and Margaret Webster will both act and direct.

The Broadway-Hollywood shuttle seems to be functioning normally, with these film players; in addition to Miss Bergman, slated for appearances sooner or later: Charles Laughton (in his own revision of Brecht's "Galileo"), Claire Trevor, Philip Dorn, Basil Rathbone, Zasu Pitts, Misha Auer and Jean Parker. Robert Montgomery of the movies will be represented as co-producer, with Elliott Nugent, of "The Big Two," in which Miss Trevor and Dorn will be seen.

All the above, of course, may not see the light of night on Broadway. And there are, in addition, at least 75 plays in various hopeful stages of development. As always, they are trying out, rehearsing, being revised, seeking financial backing, or waiting to be written. Many will die a-borning, others will get to New York, and a few will stick.

It is not possible, to be sure, to predict the sort of season it will be. If it were, no producer or backer would ever lose his shirt, and the drama critics would be out of jobs. But one thing at least seems certain—getting a ticket will still be a trick that takes some doing.

Kiwanis Club Urges Support For Community Chest

Appeals to citizens to give full support to the Community Chest Campaign was made by welfare representatives at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Tuesday.

All speakers stressed increased expenditures resulting from increased social welfare responsibilities, due largely to the aftermath of war.

David McMillan, representing the Children's Aid Society, said the need is greater today than it has ever been.

"We cannot do without a C.A.S. in this community," he said, "because last year it was necessary for the society to give 56,999 days' care to children in supervised foster homes, who, for various reasons, could not remain in their own homes."

He said foster parents were giving a real service in Victoria in the interests of child welfare. "If we agree that aiding children in getting a fair chance in life is a worthwhile cause," said Mr. McMillan, "then C.A.S. must have the support of every member of this community."

Mrs. F. W. Midgley, third vice-president of the Victorian Order of Nurses, traced the work of the V.O.N. in Greater Victoria. She disclosed that nurses had made 17,533 visits last year. The nurses provide clothing free of charge to families and had done a great deal in helping overseas wives establish themselves in this country.

J. V. Johnson, vice-president of the Y.M.C.A. outlined the work of the Y.M.C.A. for youths and said its activities spoke for itself.

Also speaking on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. was Bill Clark, a veteran who praised the work of the organization overseas during the war.

E. White, chairman of the Kiwanis Community Chest Committee, said it was the duty of every citizen to see that the campaign was a success and that at least $100,000 was raised for the benefit of 23 agencies.

Kiwanis president Denis Hagar appealed for full support of the aims and objectives of the Community Chest.

Vanderbilt Yacht Saved From Sinking

SEATTLE (AP)—George Vanderbilt's $200,000 yacht, the Pioneer, was saved from sinking in Lake Union by quick action of a tugboat pumping crew when water rushing through a broken sea valve flooded the engine room.

Capt. Walter Hart said tugboat arrived with pumping equipment five minutes after he had reported the Pioneer was sinking.

Vanderbilt, former navy lieutenant-commander, and his bride, the former Mrs. Anita Consuelo Zabala, flew east last week after the Pioneer had returned here from a honeymoon cruise to Alaska.

Victorians saw the Pioneer when she paused here briefly on her way to Alaska.

"It's wonderful to have EASE OF MIND"

"Like most people I hadn't much left after meeting present day living expenses. Yet it was evident to me that my wife and family would need at least $15,000 more than the value of my estate if I shouldn't live. And all I could hope to save was about $25 a month.

"Imagine my relief on finding out that I could provide the fifteen thousand by putting my $25 a month into a London Life Jubilee participating policy (annual premium age 30, $285.90).

"Furthermore, if I live to retire, this policy will provide money for my old age.

Property Sales Climb Here

Property sales in Victoria continue to climb according to figures released by the assessor-collector's office in the City Hall.

During the month of August there were 252 sales recorded for a total of $1,356,565 in the city, as compared to only 174 sales for a total of $627,602 in August of 1945.

There were 78 transfers of property valued at $302,200 in the month, while in August last year there were 63 transfers for $202,280.

Fifteen wills were probated for a value of $103,420, compared with 17 for the same month in 1945 for $66,290.

The total transactions within the month were 345 for a total value of $1,762,192, while in 1945 there were 254 transactions valued at $898,172.

Hold Up Decision To Take Elk Lake Water

The question of taking over Elk Lake water system is being held up at the present time, Ald. J. A. Worthington, chairman of the water board, said because of difficulties in Saanich.

Tuesday he received a letter from John Tribe, Saanich municipal clerk, asking that the whole matter remain in abeyance "until such time as a decision is made by the provincial government as to whether a certificate of incorporation would be granted for a rural water board."

Mr. Tribe said the condition which has arisen in the northern portion of Saanich municipality, which would be the area served by the Elk Lake system, regarding the possible formation of a rural water board has made it impossible for the Saanich water committee to make any decision at the present time.

Proposal was that the city take over the Elk Lake water system from the federal government at a cost of $1, guaranteeing to supply the air force approximately 500,000 gallons of water daily at no charge. The city proposed to turn the system over to Saanich to fill the long-felt need for a better water supply for the northern part of the municipality, and has been waiting for a reply since August, Ald. Worthington said.

Demand For Houses Down, But Salesmen Diverge On Reasons

Sale of houses or at any rate urgency of demand for houses is falling off in Victoria, real estate salesmen agreed today, but their views were widely divergent on the reasons for the decline in business, the type of houses most affected and the probable course of events in the next few months.

"I don't think the sale of houses is really down much," one salesman said, "although there is not the same pressure of demand for houses as there was last month or a few months ago."

The chief demand, this salesman said, was for houses in the $4,000 to $7,000 class, which were difficult to find. He blamed the horse races partly for the decrease in demand, because he said they had diverted the attention of the public from houses, and also he thought prairie farmers were waiting for the money from their crops before coming to Victoria to seek houses.

Another real estate agent said that sale of houses was un-

Britain Increases Old Age Pensions

LONDON (CP)—Four million old people Tuesday became entitled to pensions of 26 shillings ($5.20) weekly instead of 10 shillings for single persons, and 42 shillings instead of 11 for married couples.

The increases will cost the government £80,000,000 annually ($20,000,000), but many pensioners have been receiving supplementary payments above the basic 10-shilling rate to help them with the increased cost of living.

A pensions officer said that when the means test is applied some non-contributory pensioners may find the pension they receive will be less than 26 shillings.

As old people gained these new benefits, the working population began contributing more for its future security. Payments for health and insurance have been raised from two shillings six pence (50 cents) weekly to 4s for employed men between the ages of 18 and 65, and from one shilling eight pence to three shillings four pence for employed women between 18 and 60 years.

Sports Mirror

By SONNY WALKER

DO YOU THINK I am the type to become a champion at this sport or that? is the question frequently asked trainers and coaches by aspiring young athletes.

Many times the answer they receive is in the negative, because, in the opinion of the coaches, they are not the type; they may be too short or too tall, too light or too heavy, too heavily boned or of too light a structure.

I was speaking to Archie McKinnon on this matter the other day, and he is inclined to disagree with these answers. Archie puts it very well when he says: "Many young men and women have been discouraged when they probably could have been champions as they had the desire and the heart to be on top." The mental interest and the will to concentrate, persevere and well-laid plans cannot be denied in any branch of sport.

Illustrating his point, Archie went on to point out past and present champions in all branches of sport whose patterns differed from one extreme to another.

Take a look at the sprint champions. Percy Williams, a double Olympic winner, was as neat and trim as any light race horse; Charley Paddock was the heavily-muscled runner; Eddie Tolan, dark and stocky, looked like a rubber ball as he bounded down the track, while Jesse Owens was probably the smoothest individual who ever cruised over the cinders.

Do you remember the two Americans that showed their heels to the rest of the world in the 400 metres in Los Angeles at the 1932 Olympic Games? It was the elongated Ben Eastman and Wee Willie Carr of Pennsylvania who raced around the oval ahead of the field, and it was the little man who won, too.

Continuing, Archie skipped track and field and went on to tennis; Big Bill Tilden, one of the greatest of all tennis players, had most of his toughest battles with the late Bill Johnston, who stood a little over five feet. There was also Betsy Grant, just a mite compared to some of the giants of the game.

Baseball had its Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, and it also had its Rabbit Maranville and Ty Cobb. Swimming had the symmetrically built "Duke" Kobanov; the perfect swimmer, Johnny Weissmuller; but look at who won the 100 metres in the 1932 Olympics; it was a stubby little Japanese named Yasuji Miyazaki, in the amazing time of 58 seconds.

In almost every line of sport you can pick the extremes; the bodily contact sports such as American football and rugby are usually dominated by the men of elephantine proportions, but there again you occasionally find a mighty atom who becomes known as the "Giant Killer."

If you have any particular yen for any phase of athletics, give it a try, as there are some amazing opportunities waiting for the individual who can rise above the rank and file.

The self-imposed discipline, self-administered and self-applied, is good for health and character.

United Stronger For Intercity Soccer Battle With Kerrisdale

When the Victoria United play at home this week-end, they will meet easier opposition from the Kerrisdale eleven than they have encountered so far in the Pacific Coast Soccer League.

The team is improving steadily, and looked stronger last week with the addition of Alan Reside and Bobby Bell. In addition, left-winger Noel Morgan has been added to the line-up. Rookie Wright, who was injured in the opening game, is ready for action again.

Bobby Moss turned in a splendid performance on the mainland last week.

Kerrisdale dropped their first start of the season to St. Andrews and last Saturday were edged out by the Nanaimo eleven 4 to 3 at the up-Island city.

UNITED HAS SPEED TO BURN

Lacking finish around the nets seems to be the main fault of the locals just now, as they have speed to burn. A little more polish on the attacking line which will come with experience should pay off for the United and it is expected they will hit the win column at Athletic Park Saturday afternoon against the visiting Kerrisdale team. Game time is 2.30.

The same line-up that journeyed to Vancouver last week will probably start Saturday with the possible addition of George Payne to the line-up.

Victoria United: Moss; Tom Druce and Reside; McMillan, Bell and Fraser; Shubrooke, Jenkins, Cooper, Sage and Travis; spares, Okell, Barnswell, Wright and Payne.

UNITED WORKOUT

Victoria United soccer team will hold a workout Thursday evening at 7 at Royal Athletic Park.

Ling Cod Top-Weight Fish In Fish-Game Club's Derby

A 45½-pound ling cod caught by C. Slade, 2626 Avebury Avenue, was the heaviest specimen taken in the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association's first fish derby. He was presented with the top prize 12-foot rowboat at Tuesday night's meeting in the Bollermakers' Hall.

Other prizewinners were: Mrs. J. J. Ferris, R.R.2, Victoria, first consolation, a three-piece chestfield set.

Harry Stuart, second consolation, a mantel radio.

Norman Adamson, 663 Hampshire Road, third consolation, a quilt.

Hidden-weight contests: First, A. C. Jones, 956 Dunsmuir Road, with a 36½-pound fish, a four-piece bedroom set; second, D. M. Cloggie, 1021 Cook Street, 12½ pounds, an electric coffee set; third, D. Butler, Bazan Bay, 14-pound spring, an electric cooker; fourth, R. Ransom, Brentwood, 1½-pound grise, a spaniel pup; Carol Strankman, 1663 Oak Bay Avenue, 6-pound coho, an electric steam iron; sixth, Jack Fish, 1042 Clare Street, 18½-pound ling-cod, a bedroom radio.

JUNIOR BIKE WINNER

"David Younger, Brentwood Bay, was the lad who came through to take the first prize in the junior ranks, a bicycle. He caught a 3½-pound rock cod. Winners are advised to contact Ray Ritchie in the Union Building.

The derby attracted 1,300 contestants, but only 90 fish were weighed in.

According to Hughes, the derby will be an annual event. Committee chairman Ritchie paid tribute to his fellow committeemen for their efforts in the contest. Other members of the committee were: Rod Chisholm, Les Freer, George Laird, Hugh Aylmer, Howard Vail, Morris Grossman, Bud Dunnett, Aubrey Hughes.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., and Mayor Percy George spoke briefly. Mrs. Hodges expressed astonishment that the 1,000-member association was the largest outdoor sporting group in the province.

Mayor George congratulated the association for its efforts in fostering sportsmanship and woodlore among young followers of the outdoors. The association was endeavoring to secure a portion of Goldstream Park to establish a permanent headquarters for itself, he noted, commended the idea and wished it success. Commissioner Jimmy Cunningham of the B.C. Game Commission also spoke.

Basis Of Possible Rate Slash, Audit Of B.C.E.R. heavy Soon

Report on the full audit of B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. books, which may be the basis of revision of power rates, is expected to be before the B.C. Public Utilities Commission within three weeks, Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman, said today.

The audit, being conducted by George A. Touche & Co. of Victoria, covers the three-year period from 1943 to 1945. It is the first full audit since 1943. Audits during the late war years were impossible because of a lack of necessary personnel to do the work.

The final report of the auditors is now being written, conferences having been held recently by the auditors and representatives of the commission. Some differences between the company and the board in interpreting the accounts may have to be ironed out in the future.

Building Slumps In September; Year's Figures Hold Up

Although building permits in the city slumped in September to just a little more than half the total for September, 1945, the total for the year to date remained more than $1,000,000 over the figure for the first nine months in 1945.

During the nine-month period there were 1,090 building permits issued for a total value of $3,659,525, compared with 937 permits last year valued at $2,075,637.

During September this year there were 74 permits issued, valued at $438,059, while in September last year there were 241 permits, valued at $765,105. Included in this year's figure were permits for 14 homes, value $77,000; on duplex, two stores and three warehouses.

In Saanich, total value of building permits issued during the month was three times the total value for September, 1945, but was $16,529 lower than in August of this year.

Saanich issued 105 permits in September, with a total value of $300,795. Forty-five were for dwellings with a total value of $257,325.

In September, 1945, Saanich issued 45 permits with a total value of $98,673, of which 22 were for dwellings with a total value of $88,930.

In August of this year, 119 permits, totaling $317,324, were issued, of which 62 were for dwellings with a value of $265,184.

A total of 25 permits was issued in Oak Bay during September for construction valued at $113,745. Fifteen of the permits were for houses costing $91,760.

In October, 1945, a total of 17 permits was issued for construction valued at $81,720. Fourteen of the permits were for houses costing $79,615.

Total number of permits issued in Oak Bay so far this year is 193, representing $759,142 worth of construction. Of the total, 102 permits were for houses costing $654,523.

For a similar period in 1945, 174 permits were issued for construction valued at $490,688. Of these, 82 permits were for houses costing a total of $444,500.

In Esquimalt during the month three permits were issued for a total of $15,200.

The two 'teen-age girls who were suffering from infantile paralysis have been released from hospital to home isolation, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, said today. The five-year-old boy, who had the disease more severely is still in hospital, but is progressing satisfactorily with no paralysis.

Attempted Murder Case Remanded Until Next Week

John Birtelsen, 17-year-old Brentwood youth, charged with attempted murder, was remanded until Oct. 10 for preliminary hearing when the accused appeared in police court today.

Birtelsen is accused of having shot and wounded Constable Stanley Cornish, while the latter was investigating a stolen car at Hillside and Shelbourne Street early in the morning of July 20. The constable suffered a serious abdominal wound.

Chief crown witness at the preliminary hearing will be Constable Cornish, who has now recovered sufficiently to testify at the hearing.

Two cases of dangerous driving also appeared before Magistrate Henry C. Hall.

Deaton Hall pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding, was fined $40, and had his driving license suspended for one month.

Allan C. Price pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving dangerously and his case was remanded until Friday, after police had testified that the accused had driven between 60 and 65 miles per hour on Douglas Street.

Gay Lights On For Community Chest

Victoria took on a festive appearance Tuesday night with all the bright Christmas strings of lights being lit up, as well as the Parliament Buildings.

The lights are to be kept on for the duration of the Community Chest campaign to remind citizens that they are expected to contribute generously to the drive for $100,000 for the 23 member agencies of the "Red Feather" services, Mayor Percy George said.

Victoria's Boy Scouts have been busy with their share of the campaign, tacking up the gay red feather cards on every available telephone and light post as a further reminder of the sacrifice and services offered to the less fortunate and underprivileged in Victoria by the agencies who will be financed by the Community Chest campaign.

$12,500 Collected For Community Chest Few Reports In Yet

Money is starting to pour into the coffers of the Community Chest, it was reported at campaign headquarters today, with $12,500 having been collected.

The majority of the divisions have not yet reported on collections, the present sum coming solely from the special names division with a small amount already in from the residential canvass under the women's division.

It is anticipated that by Thursday the other divisions will have turned in their first reports and a substantial jump in collections will be recorded.

Denis Hagar, president, emphasized in a statement today that any citizens who were desirous of contributing to any one or two of the agencies in which they are specially interested may earmark their donations for those organizations only and their wishes will be carefully met.

The board of auditors has now been set up with Howard Clarke named as chairman. Included on his staff of eight at Prince Robert House are Capt. F. H. Higgins, Harry Bateman, Frank Leslie, Brig. J. F. Preston, Lt. Col. H. J. Beard, J. McArthur, George Riach and Phillip Dewing. Mr. Dewing is honorary treasurer.

Funds are being banked several times a day to avoid any accumulation of cash at campaign headquarters and the audit is conducted continuously to guarantee that current collections will be controlled at all times.

Sir John Anderson Says U.K. Finances Sound Despite War

Despite the tremendous cost of war, England's financial position today is absolutely sound, according to Sir John Anderson, wartime British Chancellor of the Exchequer, now visiting Victoria.

No country which had come through a war as Britain had and met half the cost of that war by taxation could be anything but sound, Sir John said.

Asked if he thought England would return readily to his pre-war prominence as a mercantile nation, Sir John said "England will recover a reasonable share of world commerce."

He estimated it would take 10 years to repair the physical damage suffered during the war. Not only that, he added, but there was a tremendous amount of maintenance work to be caught up on, work which had been diverted as a consequence of Britain's war effort. At present, Sir John said, the country is hampered by the scarcity of materials, including lumber, although that is beginning to arrive in England in larger quantities.

In overcoming the ravages of war, England was faced not only with the shortage of materials, but also with a scarcity of manpower, he added.

He did not wish to speak on politics as he did not want to criticize the Labor government, he said.

Alberni Case In Court Of Appeal

Appeal of Patrick John Lane, a Port Alberni watchmaker, found guilty of unlawful misappropriation of funds, began before the Court of Appeal today.

Lane was sentenced to six months imprisonment by Police Magistrate T. M. Paterson for having misappropriated funds which were given to him by the proprietor of Arrowview Hotel, to purchase furniture for the hotel. The sum involved was $841.

Pensioners Asked Housing Preference

Mrs. Dorothy Spurr, addressing the Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association Tuesday on a tentative housing scheme for the aged, distributed questionnaires to members asking for information on their present housing arrangements.

The questionnaire asks, among other questions, whether old-age pensioners would prefer to live in small apartments at a reasonable rental; whether they would rather have apartments with community dining-rooms or cottages; what they consider the limit old-age pensioners can pay for rent on the present pension.

Record Enrollment Of 900 At Opening Of Night School

A record enrollment of almost 900 registered at the opening of the 34th annual session of the Victoria evening classes Tuesday night, George Anstey, director, said today. In previous years the average enrollment has been only 600.

There are still 12 more courses to be opened during the balance of the week and registration is still open for the classes which started Tuesday.

Most popular class is leathercraft with more than 100 registered. Four classes will be conducted in this subject, Mr. Anstey said, two at Victoria High School and two at Central Junior High School.

Sixty-two registered in dressmaking and another class will be opened at Central Junior High School Mondays and Wednesdays to accommodate half the students. Only 12 registered at Oak Bay for dressmaking the first night, but more are expected in this class.

Courses at Oak Bay and Esquimalt did not receive the support expected, Mr. Anstey said.

The woodworking class is popular with fifty-two registered at Central Junior High. This will have to be divided, Mr. Anstey reported.

Several classes did not get the minimum number required to keep operating, which is 15.

These classes are English for new Canadians with only six enrolled to date; dress appreciation, eight enrolled; radio construction, 12 students; and personal efficiency, with eight students.

All students registering this year are paying their own fees, Mr. Anstey emphasized. "Last year almost 20 per cent of the 1,000 students who attended night school, were members of the armed forces whose fees were paid by the Canadian Legion. With the ending of the war, this organization withdrew its support."

Want School Space Held At Macauley, Gordon Head Camps

When emergency housing projects are set up at Macauley Point and Gordon Head camps, the Greater Victoria School Board has requested the City Council to see that sufficient buildings on the projects are set aside to be used for school purposes for the children who will be living in the huts.

T. L. Christie, secretary of the school board, in a letter to the City Council today, asked that a consultation be held with the board before the families are established in the camps to see what space is needed for school purposes.

The question of who is to finance the setting up of the extra classrooms or how the extra teachers are to be hired was not mentioned in the letter.

Esquimalt Municipal Council at the last meeting sent a letter to the City Council insisting that the city should undertake all educational and welfare costs of families settled at Macauley.

Hart Says Factors Other Than Surplus Set Railway's Worth

Premier John Hart, discussing the proposed extension of the provincially-owned P.G.E. railway into the Peace River district, today told the Vancouver Board of Trade the worth of a government railway should not be measured alone by the size of its surpluses.

The P.G.E. had and still performs a valuable function in serving the communities and industries in the area through which it passes, he said.

"There are many indirect revenues which the railway brings to the province, apart from those obtained from freight and passenger service," he said.

The debt of the P.G.E. to the provincial government, including the cost of original construction, advances and compound interest, now totals $121,090,325.

"This investment makes the question of development even more paramount since the only solution to salvaging something of those heavy investments in the past would seem to lie in the extension of the line so that it can secure the tonnage necessary to make it a profitable railroad."

Highlights of this evening's session of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church of Canada at First United Church will be discussion of issues of religious education. The session will open at 7:30.

Following opening devotional service conducted by Rev. W. R. Ashford, Centennial United Church, this morning, recent changes in pastorates at Island churches were noted and newcomers to the various churches welcomed.

They included Rev. J. G. H. Bompas, Alberni; Rev. C. E. Motte, Youbou; Rev. F. H. Go-lightly, Duncan; Rev. H. J. Armitage, Ladysmith; Rev. A. A. Butt, Hailburton Street Church, Nanaimo; Rev. E. S. Fleming, Sidney; and Rev. Ye Ching Chow, Chinese United Church, Victoria.

Company Registrations Continue At Boom Rate

Number of companies formed in British Columbia during September decreased to 108, but officers of the companies office at the Parliament Buildings who handle the registrations were confident that postwar boom of new company registrations will continue.

Number of companies registered rose sharply immediately following the war's end and has continued at the rate of more than 100 per month during the past year. The all-time monthly record in registrations was set last May when 166 new companies were registered.

During last August 134 new firms were registered.

11 ROOMS—EXCELLENT LOCATION FURNISHED, INCLUDING VALUABLE ANTIQUES
 This exclusive listing is offered for the first time. Approximately one-third of an acre in gardens, lawns, shrubbery and ornamental water, very hilly and lovely outlook.
 The solid, well-constructed mansion is in excellent condition throughout and has been newly redecorated. It is a superb example of a "CLASSICALLY-CONTROLLED" OIL-O-MATIC hot air heating plant.
 A library, a recreation hall opens into a huge drawing-room (24x27). Off the main kitchen is a large dining-room. A separate suite of dining and kitchen and a bedroom and bathroom completes the main floor.
 Upstairs are two large and two small bedrooms. There are four separate entrances, sundeck and a double garage. Solid foundation of stone and brick the full height of the basement.
 THE EXQUISITE FURNITURE, many items of great value to the collector, gives an Old World charm and atmosphere that is fascinating. The library of about 400 volumes includes many out-of-print, rare and valuable books as well as comparatively modern works. Most of the furniture is of Early Victorian design and includes a nice piece of pinpoint drawing-room suite, a six-piece bedroom suite with the dresser, a high-top top of marble, a fireplace mantelpiece, an extension dining-room table and sideboard, all made of superb American Black Walnut.
 Other items include a real and valuable music box, two expensive Indian rugs, six Austrian high-back dining-room chairs, bookcases, corner cabinets, nearly new gas range, Rogers radio with extension, chinaware and crockery, etc.
 This valuable property and contents to be sold only as a unit.
